REPUBLICANS OF MARYLAND.

The Southern States Preparing for a Part in the Campaign.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 22.—Ex-Congressman William E. Simmonds was made permanent chairman of the Republican State Convention today.

Ex-Governor Morgan, G. Bulkley, John I. Hutchinson, Arthur Brewer and Samuel Fessenden were elected delegates-at-large.

The platform opens with the declaration in favor of protective tariff and the reciprocity plan. Upon the currency question the Convention says:

We are unalterably opposed to the issue of unsecured paper currency, either by Government or banks and free coinage silver at any ratio and favor the single standard value and that standard gold. We believe this policy, with sound and stable currency upon a gold basis, will furnish sufficient revenue to meet all requirements of the Government and properly support it.

The electoral vote of Connecticut is pledged to whoever may be the Republican nominee for the Presidency.

NEBRASKA.

The Democrats Come Out in Favor of Free Silver.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LINCOLN, Neb., April 22.—The free silver Democrats of Nebraska met in State Convention today to elect four delegates at large to the National Democratic Convention. Every county is represented with no opposition from the other faction of the party which holds a convention at Lincoln one week hence.

W. J. Bryan and C. J. Smyth are slated for two delegates at large.

Ex-Governor Boyd was urged to accept the place on the State delegation, but positively declined to have his name go before the convention.

Boyd is a sound money man, but opposed to this administration.

MARYLAND.

Republicans Are Called Together in Convention at Baltimore.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

BALTIMORE, April 22.—U. S. Senator elect Geo. L. Wellington, as chairman of the State Central Committee, called the Maryland Republican State Convention to order today.

The mention of McKinley and Reed evoked applause.

The platform declared for a protective tariff and reciprocity. The following is the currency plank:

"We believe in a gold standard upon which to base our circulating medium, and we are opposed to free and unlimited coinage of silver until an international agreement shall give silver larger use."

Alabama Democrats.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 22.—The Democratic State Convention today adopted a platform for the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, and instructed the delegates to Chicago to vote as a unit. President Cleveland was endorsed on everything except finance. The convention nominated Joseph F. Johnston for Governor.

Nashville Republicans.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 22.—The Republican State Convention which met today is the largest gathering of Republicans ever assembled in this State.

Judge Lewis Shepherd was chosen temporary chairman.

ELECTION TROUBLES.

Pharr Declares He Is the Legal Governor of Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, April 22.—The Item bulletin board contains the following:

"Pharr has been elected Governor. The item will prove this fact by the evidence of 270 Pinkerton detectives who were present yesterday at the polls where fraud was carried out."

"BERWICK La., April 22nd. I have been elected Governor by the votes that were put in the ballot boxes and will be inaugurated on the second Tuesday in May.

"(Signed) J. L. Pharr."

A dispatch from St. John Baptiste Parish states that a crowd of negroes attempted to steal the Parish ballot boxes. Five whites resisted and shooting followed. Several people were killed.

The Governor has ordered a company of the Louisiana Field Artillery to the scene of the trouble.

DAVIE'S KICK.

The Mayor Wants Hodgkins Put Back on Patrol Duty.

The Mayor maintains that Chief Lloyd should dispense with the services of Sergeant Hodgkins as sergeant and put him at work on the regular force, but it is hardly probable that any steps will be taken to enforce this opinion.

The fact that his actions are being criticised by the Mayor does not apparently prey on the mind of Chief Lloyd. "I detailed Hodgkins to act as sergeant and there he will remain," he said this morning. "I did not take the initial step in this matter, as ex-Chief Schaffer appointed him to his office. There is no provision in the charter which says I shall not detail an officer to do sergeant's duty and as no extra pay goes with the place I shall keep Hodgkins where he is."

He Came Back.

Victor Hugo Dukey the 14 year old school boy who disappeared from home Monday morning and caused consternation in the family for fear that he had shipped to sea, turned up last night. He had been to San Francisco on a protracted "hook" from school.

INDICTMENTS QUASHED.

Judge Greene Holds Those Against Whidden Are Defective.

Menzenmeyer Is Also Released as Juror Held Was Not Qualified to Act.

The remaining five indictments against County Auditor Myron Whidden, were quashed in Judge Greene's court this morning. It is not likely that the present Grand Jury will indict Whidden, although Judge Greene made an order submitting the information to it.

When the matter was called, Whidden was in court, represented by A. A. Moore and George De Golia. District Attorney Snook and Deputy Lin Church appeared for the people.

Judge Greene opened the case by referring to the motion made before Judge Frick to set aside the indictment No 1746, on the ground that Grand Juror Held was insane at the time the jury was impanelled and continued so during the time the jury was in session and at the time the defendant was indicted. The demurrer further stated that the defendant had not been held by a committing magistrate nor placed under arrest until after the indictment was found.

Judge Greene then gave his opinion as follows

"I have looked this matter over, also that of Menzenmeyer, and have come to the conclusion that the juror Held, was insane. That he was insane at the time he was sworn as a juror, and continued to be insane up to the time of his death, which resulted I believe from suicide, committed while insane. Now the statute among other things says that indictments of such a nature must be set aside. There are five cases against the defendant Whidden in which these same motions are involved. Indictment No. 1746, is for falsifying records, to wit: "The assessment roll for 1894-1895 in the tax collectors' office." The demurrer claims that the indictment is erroneous as it should charge mutilation and not falsification. There are many other grounds upon which the demurrer is based. There is in my opinion, a bare possibility that the indictment might be good. If the case was tried and defendant convicted, the judgment would be set aside by the Supreme Court. The court now sustains the demurrer and will take further action."

At this point Attorney Moore addressed the court and objected to any further action being taken, as the court had no further jurisdiction.

Judge Greene stated that the law gave him the right to submit the matter to the present Grand Jury and such would be his order.

Attorney Moore, in objecting further to Judge Greene's order, stated that the present Grand Jury had no power to act on the case. The action sustaining his original motion ended the matter and the discharged defendant could not be placed in jeopardy again for an offence he had once been indicted for.

Judge Greene thought differently, however, and overruled the objection with the announcement that the defects in the indictment or all of them may be cured. He then sustained the demurrer to the remaining four charges against Whidden and the one against Menzenmeyer, and ordered the information submitted to the Grand Jury now in session.

The District Attorney will present the matter to the Grand Jury at once and endeavor, if possible to secure the reindictment of Whidden and Menzenmeyer.

DEATH OF GENERAL JEFFRIES.

The Filled Cheese Bill Referred to the Committee on Finance.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The President's vetoes of two pension bills were laid before the Senate today.

Gallinger (N. H.) chairman of the Pension Committee, said he regretted the President had seen fit to veto the bills.

Capt. Allabach's military services were such that he might have applied for a pension but did not do so, owing to personal disinclination. While Jones was photographer he received a gunshot wound resulting in total blindness during an attack on Longstreet's lines.

"The President refers to a 'trivial wound,'" said Gallinger. "I will not discuss and suggest what is in my brain for I think that message was written without the knowledge of the facts."

The Pension Committee had not proceeded carelessly and recklessly in favoring these pensions.

"I hold," said Palmer (Ills) "that when a citizen voluntarily associates himself with the military forces he becomes de facto in military service and if wounded he has the same moral right to a pension as any one formally enlisted."

The vetoes were referred to the Pension Committee.

Many petitions came urging action in behalf of Bishop Diaz, arrested in Cuba. A resolution by Bacon (Ga.) was adopted requesting the State Department to furnish information as to the arrest and as to what steps had been taken toward securing an impartial trial.

GOODWIN IS SEATED.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—(House)—The Fifth Alabama District was not represented in the House over night. Cobb had been unseated but seating the contestant went over until today when the report was adopted by a vote of 145 to 55, and Goodwin was sworn in.

FILLED CHEESE.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The Senate Committee on Agriculture today agreed to report the filled cheese bill as it passed the House, with the recommendation that it be referred to the Finance Committee on the ground that it is a financial bill.

INDIAN BILL.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The Senate by a vote of 38 to 24 has adopted the amendment to the Indian appropriation Bill offered by Cockrell of Missouri, providing that a fifty per cent appropriation for Indian contract schools should be appropriated in the pending bill for such schools.

CLOSED ITS DOORS.

The American National Bank of Denver Goes Under.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

DENVER, April 22.—The American National Bank failed to open its doors this morning.

The following notice was posted:

"This bank has closed its doors by vote of its directors and is in my hands as a representative of the Government.

"ZEPH T. HILL."

The failure does not come as a surprise nor indicate any lack of confidence in the general business situation.

The condition of the bank has been weak for a long time because of internal dissensions. The retirement from the directorate and sale of the stock of several wealthy men materially reduced the business of the bank.

According to the last report, made at the close of business, March 6th, the total deposits were $1,471,961; loans and discounts, $1,128,271; cash on hand, $232,265. The capital stock is $500,000, and surplus $150,000.

The assets amount to $2,245,173, and it is claimed there will be but little trouble realizing on them.

The following statement was taken from the books of the American National Bank this morning:

Resources: Cash and exchange, $70,-0; bills receivable, $1,078,000; stock and securities, $265,435; real estate, $136,590; excess on circulation, $22,000. Total, $1,-52,335.

Liabilities: Individual deposits, $530,72; demand deposits, $28,698, due other banks, $97,924, time deposits, $66,297; borrowed money, $142,500. Total, $865,231.

Comparing this statement with that published in March shows the bank deposits and reserve declined very rapidly. Over $700,000 were withdrawn Monday and Tuesday this week and there being only $70,000 left, the directors decided that the best thing to do was to close the bank.

Besides the resources given above are notes for $500,000 set aside for the recent reduction of the capital stock from a million to $500,000, and fifth interest in the Strong mine at Victor. The president of the bank is John R. Hanna. The directorate consists of some of the leading men of Denver, including Fine P. Ernest, William and Moritz Barth, Mitchell Benedict, George W. Ballantine, T. J. O Donnell. In consequence of the failure a run has been started on the National Bank of Commerce.

The charges against him were forgery, fraud and breach of trust.

A Glittering Pageant Inaugurates the Reign of the Queen.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 22.—The city is crowded with sight seers today, who have come to witness the first grand street parade of La Fiesta. The showers early this morning served to lay the dust and the air today was crisp and cool.

Throngs of people lined the streets and filled stands and platforms at Tribunes, where the Queen appeared long before the hour of her coming. The great parade was formed at 1 o'clock at Seventh and Hope streets. In the line which moved at 2 o'clock, appeared long columns of military, U. S. marines and sailor boys from war ships at San Pedro, Indian warriors in full costume, Spanish caballeros and uniformed Fiesta clubs. Many artistic floats emblematic of prosperity and other features appeared, and not least pleasing was Chinese division containing a monster green dragon 250 feet long, operated by 150 invisible Chinamen. This glittering pageant passed along the principal streets of the city after the drill of the marines before the Queen.

TALKS ON OAKLAND.

How the Southern Pacific Stands in Regard to This City.

MR. KRUTTSCHNITT TALKS.

The Railroad Not Interfering in the Water Companies' Fight.

SHOPS NOT TO BE REMOVED.

Denial of Rumors Concerning Topics of Interest to This Side.

A reporter for The Tribune for the purpose of supplementing some of the facts adduced at the meeting held in West Oakland last evening by General Manager Kruttschnitt, called on that gentleman this morning in the offices of the Southern Pacific at the corner of Montgomery and Market street, San Francisco.

Mr. Kruttschnitt seemed to be in the enjoyment of excellent health and spirits and the conversation which was of an informal character which took place between him and the Tribune representative was mainly devoted to the interests of the people of this city in connection with the road which Mr. Kruttschnitt represents.

In the course of the conversation, the reporter referred to the fact that this paper had been informed that certain employes of the Southern Pacific Company who had been taking water from the Oakland Water Company, had been coerced by representatives of the railroad into removing their patronage from that water company and transferring their allegiance to the rival concern in this city.

Mr. Kruttschnitt was asked whether there were any persons in the employ of the Southern Pacific Company who had any authority to so coerce the patrons of one water company in the interests of another and if not what would be the effect of the discovery of persons who had so abused the confidence imposed in them by the Southern Pacific Company.

Mr. Kruttschnitt has a straight forward manner of expression and a face that reveals some of the emotions which he feels interiorly. When he heard this question the expression of Mr. Kruttschnitt's face was that of surprise and amazement.

"No one in authority has authorized any employe to do that. If it has been done," he said, "or is being done, I should like to know who is doing it. I have never heard of such a thing being done before and it is not done with my sanction or that of any person that I know of. As to what would be done to an employe who would so use his position in the employ of this company I cannot say at present. I have made it a practice never to prejudge a case. I have always been governed by the principle of making an investigation and being guided in my action by what I find out."

Mr. Kruttschnitt expressed himself as well pleased with the meeting of last night and in referring to it and the disposition displayed said he would be willing and glad to co-operate with the people of this city in anything that would be consistent in furthering the interests of Oakland.

The conversation then turned on the shops at West Oakland and the relative force of men employed there now and the amount of work done there, as also what hope there is of a still further increase of the plant, and the general manager remarked:

"I asked Mr. Wilder for some facts regarding the shops, the number of men and other features, expecting that the question might be brought up at last night's meeting."

Here Mr. Kruttschnitt drew from his pocket Mr. Wilder's memorandum and read: "We are employing more men at the shops now than we did five years ago although times are not so good as they were then. The amount of wages which we pay monthly to the employes in Oakland is about $140,000.' This," said Mr. Kruttschnitt "amounts to between $1,600,000 and $1,700,000 a year. The shops in Oakland, as in everywhere else are increasing in size owing to the increase in the business of the company. We have before this, been obliged to hold back increasing our shops on account of dull times."

Mr. Kruttschnitt was asked what reliance was to be placed on the threatened removal of the shops from Oakland, and said with a suggestion of annoyance:

"That is about as strange a story as I ever heard. I can't imagine where it started. There is no foundation for it. As an actual fact, a small increase in size is being built to the Oakland shops. This is being done on the recommendation of Mr. Wilder and Mr. McKenzie, because it is impossible to do the work required with the present accommodations. This addition will result in giving three additional engine stalls to the machine shop for the repair of locomotives. I cannot tell, off-hand, the number of locomotives repaired in the Oakland shops. Leaving out the shops at Sacramento and Algiers, which are the two big terminal shops of the Southern Pacific. I think the shops of Oakland come next in the number of men."

Mr. Kruttschnitt then demolished the rumor that shops are to be established in San Francisco as soon as the trains ran in there around the bay along the new line to handle Oakland work.

"That would be very awkward," he said, "to move the engines across the bay in order to have them repaired and send them back again. If you will reason backward you will perceive that the company must have shops in Oakland to repair the engines which come in there. We must take care of the engines that come in there and they must be cared for there. They could not be brought across the bay to be repaired and then shipped back again because that would be very awkward."

"Will the ferry system be increased," asked the reporter, "so that three boats per hour will run on the broad gauge system instead of two boats, as is now the case?"

"I know of no anticipated change of that nature in the service at the present time. The day, of course, will come when the company will have to run more boats, but it will not be done at present."

In connection with the rumor of three boats per hour, has been coupled the rumor of the abandonment of the narrow gauge system to both Oakland and Alameda. Mr. Kruttschnitt answered this rumor by saying that he had never heard of it and, so far as he knew, there were no grounds for it. "Our men," he said, "very often discuss subjects in which the company is interested, but, of course, they do so on their own authority. It may have been that the subject arose in that way."

Mr. Kruttschnitt was then asked as to whether the erection of a single bridge, further east on the estuary, than Alice street would enable the narrow gauge line to Fourteenth street to make its half-hourly trips as at present, because of the increase in the run which would be the result.

"I do not know," said Mr. Kruttschnitt in reply, "that it has been decided to locate the bridge at the point you refer to. Mr. Curtis has been giving some attention to that matter. I know he has appeared before the Government representatives and that a certain showing as to the two bridges now over the estuary has been made. There are several interests to be considered in the matter of those bridges, those of the railroad company, the people and of navigation. It has been claimed that the bridges are obstructions in many ways, but what will be done in making the changes needed I do not know. I believe, however, that when all the parties interested put their heads together there will be an arrangement effected which will be entirely satisfactory."

The subject then introduced was regarding the restoration of pleasant feelings between people who have heretofor been estranged from the company and the management of the corporation.

Mr. Kruttschnitt said he was pleased to be informed that the feeling which had been rankling in the breasts of many people as a consequence of the late strike was disappearing.

"One of the means of preserving a hostile feeling," he said, "is a hostile press. I have been in the railroad business eighteen years and I know that no company intends to and does treat its employes better than does the Southern Pacific. This principle has been instilled into them by Mr. Huntington, Mr. Crocker and others and if they have grievances they have been told that those grievances may be redressed. Only recently I saw in a certain paper the statement that the employes had a grievance against the company and that the time had come for another strike. Such advice is injurious to everybody, but I do not think that the men will follow it."

"BIG FOOT" IN COURT.

Attorney Hall Claims That He Was Not Legally Held by Judge Wood.

When the case of "Big Foot," one of the gold brick men, was called in Judge Greene's court this morning, Attorney Hall, appearing for Gordon, demurred to the complaint on the ground that the defendant had not been examined by a regular committing magistrate. Mr. Hall claimed that the complaint sworn to by S. A. Hofstra before Clerk Crawford was void, as the defendant had not been legally held.

Judge Wood was in the courtroom, ready to answer Attorney Hall, but Judge Greene continued the case one week.

TO MEET IN STOCKTON.

Second Annual Convention of the Epworth Leaguers.

A Large Representation From All Parts of the Oakland District.

The second annual convention of the Epworth League of the Oakland district held in the Chester street M. E. Church yesterday, was attended by delegates from Modesto, Martinez, Livermore, Pleasanton, Stockton, Berkeley, Alameda, Amador, and Golden Gate. Henry G. Turner presided.

The committee on resolutions presented the following.

That the thanks of the convention be heartily given to the pastor and officers of the Chester street Methodist Episcopal Church and League for the royal welcome and excellent entertainment given the members of this convention, such welcome and entertainment contributing so materially to the success of our gathering.

That we express our appreciation of the able and worthy papers presented to the convention, and especially thank those who, though unable to attend, sent their papers.

That we believe the interests of the League work in the Oakland district call for the publication of a live, enthusiastic Epworth League paper.

That in our judgment an annual convention will best serve the interests of the League and Church in this district, and that such convention ought at least to last two full days, with the evening devoted to evangelistic services, and that the programme be so arranged as to give ample time for the discussion of all the themes presented, and also that some time be devoted to a consideration of the great social reform and patriotic questions of the day

That we look with disfavor upon the action of any organization in the Methodist Episcopal Church expecting to become a League, refusing to adopt the Epworth League pledge in its entirety. We do this with all firmness, and yet with all kindness, on the ground that it is disloyal to the organization as such and also to the Church.

That we are not in favor of the elimination of the amusement clause from the book of discipline, and we most sincerely hope that the general conference will take no backward step in this matter.

That we urge upon all our Leaguers the value and importance of the Epworth Herald and reading course, believing these agencies to be mighty in the upholding of an intelligent type of New Testament piety.

Professor M. S Cross, dean of the University of the Pacific, then gave an address on "Intelligent Piety," and Dr. M. C. Harris of San Francisco spoke on "Be Ye Filled with the Spirit," followed by a prayer service.

It was decided to hold the next convention at Stockton.

Bicycle Riders Injured.

A serious accident occurred on the Oakland Trotting Park track Sunday, which will probably result in preventing two of the Acme Club's speediest men from riding for some time. Arthur Agnew was going down the home stretch at a very fast clip, when E. W. Decker wheeled in through the big gates. The men came together and both fell heavily. Decker was unconscious for a time and Agnew was so seriously hurt that it took three hours to restore him. His neck was first thought to be broken, but the injury was not quite so serious. His spine was hurt, and he suffered concussion of the brain.

OAKLAND, CAL.

AWAKENED ENTHUSIASM.

Oakland Board of Trade Holds a Largely Attended Meeting.

New Blood is Infused into the Organization and Activity is Resumed.

An enthusiastic meeting of nearly 100 merchants of this city was held last evening for the purpose of reorganizing the Oakland Board of Trade. M. J Keller, president of the old board, called the meeting to order and outlined the purposes for which the reorganization was deemed necessary. The membership of the old Board of Trade had dwindled down to 125. Over 300 citizens had already promised and were willing to take an interest in the reorganization of the board. It is intended to increase the membership to at least 600 or 800. Mr. Keller referred to the Boards of Trade of Los Angeles and San Francisco, and stated that there was no reason why a similar organization should not be effected here. He stated that it was a disgrace that in a city the size of Oakland there should not be a commercial exhibit.

Craigie Sharpe, who has been instrumental in reviving an interest in the Board, said that even the city of Fresno had something to show visitors, while Oakland had nothing.

"We are dead in this town," said Mr. Sharpe, "and we need to be woke up. We are on the eve of an era of progress.

"The biggest surprise in commercial circles in this city was the exposition of last December. When the idea was started everybody doubted the feasibility of it, but the projectors went ahead. And what did we see? One week did not satisfy the people, and when we were forced to close the doors we had a very handsome surplus on hand. We do not want to lose the benefit of that example, but we want to extend it to Alameda, Berkeley and every town in this county. We have our own matchless water front, and our future is in your hands."

He briefly referred to the work accomplished by Boards of Trade in other towns and outlined the improvements Oakland should have.

H. M. Van Arman referred to the difference between Los Angeles and Oakland, and said that this city suffers because of the preference shown by Easterners for the southern city. This was due to the manner in which Los Angeles boomed itself.

Colonel J L. Lyon said the organization should be made powerful enough to compel the Board of Supervisors to carry out necessary improvements, and if the organization numbers 500 or 600 active members this could be done.

"For fifteen years," he said, "we have been trying to get a road into Contra Costa County. We have not got a road yet, and by this time we should have an electric line over the hills, and should be using it and deriving great benefit from it. But we must have a powerful, united organization. We have lots of time now, business is dull. What we want is money and that we can only get by enthusiastic work. We have got to do it for self preservation, and there is no alternative."

H. C Capwell said it was evident that the merchants were in earnest, and moved that a nominating committee of seven be appointed to canvass among the members and select men of energy and will for directors.

Edson Adams seconded the motion, which was carried.

The chairman appointed H. C. Capwell, Edson F. Adams, J F. Towle, G. E. Fairchild, E. W. Martin, M. J. Laymance, H. Hogan.

A lively discussion ensued as to instructing the nominating committee, but it failed, and it is very evident that there will be a lively election next Tuesday evening.

High Schools Will Debate

The debate between the Lowell High School of San Francisco and the Oakland High School will take place in the High School gymnasium Friday evening. Fred Dorets, Charles Quayle and Bert Reynolds will represent Oakland, and the Lowell debaters will be R. D. Brown, J. F. English and J. Golden. Fred S. Stratton of Oakland will be one of the judges. Rudolph Coffee and Herbert L. Breed are making the arrangements.

DR. BROWN IS GUILTY.

A Stormy Scene at the Closing of the Ministers' Conference.

DR. M'LEAN IS THREATENED.

His Son Threatens to Put a Bullet Through Him.

BROWN'S FRIENDS ARE MAD

They Declare the Decision of the Conference to Be an Outrage.

The famous Brown scandal has at last reached a definite conclusion and the chief actor in the sensational affair is dethroned by his brother ministers.

Before the afternoon session opened the contingent upholding the accused pastor realized the helplessness of the case and during their luncheon, in one corner of the church, it was decided to make a bolt from the edifice, as soon as the expected unfavorable verdict was reached. With this end in view, Deacon Morse, instructed his faction to gain convenient seats near the aisles and at a given signal to rise and flee. That the programme was not carried out was due to the length of the session which withheld the uplifted ax till the last minute.

When the Tribune went to press yesterday, Dr. McLean still occupied the rostrum, where for half an hour, he rehearsed the case and pointed out Brown as unfit to wear the frock. Had a vote been taken when he concluded unquestionably, the accused clergyman would have been deposed by at least a two-thirds vote. However, the telling play of the defensive faction turned those laymen, who had heretofore been on the fence, in favor of Brown and when the final vote was taken he was beaten by just 17 votes, the results being 49 in favor of adopting the Haven's resolutions and 32 against adoption.

Brown received the verdict without betraying the least emotion and his only remark was, "I am not downed yet."

Valley, the pastor's son, however could not restrain his feelings and during the pandemonium which broke loose following the announcement, he went into hysterics and threatened Dr McLean with bodily harm and it was with difficulty that he was quieted. One woman invoked the curse of God on the prosecuting pastor, while out in the corridors men waxed and swore they would not submit to what they termed, "an outrage."

It was truly a most remarkable scene and one which will live long in the memory of Congregationalism.

In the course of his closing address for the prosecution, Dr. McLean said:

"I stand here through an intense conviction of duty. When Dr. Brown came into the meeting of ministers about the first of the year and asked them to suspend their judgment until he had had a chance to vindicate himself I favored it, and made a motion to grant his request. When the Overman letters were published, startling as they were, Dr. Brown said he could clear himself if allowed to do so by his attorneys. I believed him, and gladly waited. I went into the council believing that Dr. Brown would be found to be innocent. I cannot make you know the sickening doubt which grew and grew, and coiled itself, like some black, damning snake, about my heart. But through it all I tried to be a fair moderator. It was a strenuous period. It was a period of doubt. I had put together the evidence, piece by piece and the state of my mind grew from suspicion to conviction of guilt. I was convinced, as were the other councilors, that something had transpired which should not have transpired in the conduct of Dr. Brown as a Christian minister."

The clergyman then went on to submit the evidence in the case and step by step wove a net about Brown.

During the evening session, Dr Chapman, who was always considered an anti-Brown man, created a sensation by declaring himself opposed to the resolutions and in favor of Brown. This added much weight to the case of the accused.

Many others spoke, and then Dr. Brown was given the floor.

His address was lengthy and in it he recited the charges from beginning to end. It was intimated that several members of the gathering were acting in an unchristian manner, but in conclusion the pastor pleaded that his good work in the past be taken into consideration. He grew pathetic, and almost pitiful when he said that he had listened all day for one kind word of Christian regard for his work, but had not heard it, and was now compelled, perforce, to refer to it himself for the first time in his life.

"Finally, my brethren," he said, "to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ is my life. I love the gospel more than my life. I have been obliged to picture to myself what the future would be if you hand me over to the secularities. I shall go forth branded, and there are honorable men in the law, in business life and even in the humblest paths, who would shun and avoid me. What do you propose that I shall do? I ask again, then, my brethren, that you ask yourselves that something more than the present evidence be adduced before I am condemned and dismissed from the ministry. I would rather be shot down where I stand than that such a thing should occur." Then the Moderator announced that the vote would be taken and when the count was finished, it was announced that Dr. Brown was no longer a member of the Bay Conference.

A LICENSE DISCUSSION.

The Merchants' Exchange Will Further Investigate the Problem.

The Trip to Alvarado is Appreciated and the Host is Thanked.

The Merchants' Exchange held a meeting last night at which the license question was thoroughly discussed.

Attorney DeGolia, who has been investigating the matter to see what could be done in the licensing drummers of wholesale houses, reported that according to the decision of the Supreme Court in the test case of a drummer arrested in Chico for violating a city ordinance requiring drummers for wholesale houses to have a license, the city ordinance was upheld.

The city Council could pass a like ordinance in this city if the merchants desired.

This question caused considerable discussion, some of the merchants arguing that it would be a protection to local houses while others thought this would injure home industries by allowing Eastern drummers to monopolize the trade. No action was taken by the merchants in the matter beyond requesting the license committee, which consists of Chairman D. C. Brown, Theo. Gier, Walter Meese, C. W. Kinsey and A. T. Smilie, to examine the present city license ordinances, both those in operation and dormant and report on the matter at the next meeting.

The chairman was requested to appoint a committee to draw up resolutions of thanks to Mr. Dingee for the Alvarado trip tendered to the Merchants' Exchange. The committee will be appointed this afternoon.

Owing to delay in Emporium Building, S. F., Chas. B. Wells will not remove his art rooms until May 1st. Balance of pictures and frame stock will be sold out regardless of cost

THE FATE OF TWO BOYS.

The Young Burglars Are Not Equally Favored in the Prison.

Youthful Majors Is Put to Work in the Folsom Rock Quarry.

Mrs. Ella Wilmore, the mother of Bert Wilmore, the boy burglar, is rejoicing over the fact that Bert has been given an opportunity to learn a trade while serving his sentence in prison, as he has been put to work in the electrical works. Poor Mrs. Wagner, the unfortunate mother of Abe Majors, the other boy burglar, is not consoled by any such knowledge, for the last letters from her son informed her that he was working in the quarry.

While in the City Prison, young Majors learned for the first time the fate of his father, who was hung in Santa Clara county for murder. The boy became imbued with the idea that it was useless to struggle against the reputation that had been left him, and seemed to feel it was impossible to do otherwise than follow in his father's footsteps.

When the boys were sentenced, it was rumored that their stay in the Penitentiary would only be a matter of a couple of months, when the Prison Commissioners would transfer the boys to the Whittier or Preston Reform School. It was also said that the boys would be kept apart from the criminals and be given positions as library messengers, but it proves to be a mistake.

Mrs. Wilmore is now very comfortably located on Twelfth street between Center and Kirkham, and is supplied with sewing by her sympathizing friends.

Mrs. Wagner is in needy circumstances and unable to obtain work. She is willing to do anything to obtain an honest living for herself and two little boys.

The only person who would willingly support her and the helpless little ones is Abe Majors, her unfortunate boy, who, two winters ago, went without flannels, that his little half brothers might be clad, showing more love and sacrifice than their own father.

FORTUNE AWAITS.

A Snug Sum Is in Search of a Missing Owner.

Diedrick Bruns of Emeryville is in town looking for the missing woman, who is his niece. Her maiden name was Alice Droge. Her parents died in San Francisco 18 years ago, leaving three daughters, Rosie, Lily and Alice, and a little property, which the uncle as guardian has carefully cared for during their infancy.

Rosie married a man named Bolden, and now resides in San Francisco, as also does Lily, who is unmarried

Alice was wayward, and left her home several years ago. When she was last heard of, she was in Fresno, and she said she was living with her husband, a man named Allison, and that he ran a shooting gallery. Mrs. Allison is at present 28 years of age

Her father's estate has been fully settled, and her sisters have received their share. All effort to locate the missing woman has been fruitless so far.

Mother's Mush is a breakfast delight.

SAVED FROM NICOTINE.

Father and Son Set Free at Asheville, N. C.

Little Charley Fogleman Used Tobacco Since Babyhood, and His Father Smoked and Chewed for the Past Twenty Years.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., April 22.—(Special)—"Is that true?" asked the News' man at Pelham's Pharmacy, as he laid down a letter in the presence of a dozen interested customers.

"Yes, it is," promptly answered the proprietor. "It was written here on one of our letterheads, and signed by J. C. Fogleman, who lives at No 5 Buxton street. We all know he is a man of his word."

This is what the letter said:

"Office of Pelham's Pharmacy, 24 Patton avenue, Asheville, N. C. Gentlemen—My little boy, now 8 years old began chewing tobacco when 3 years old by the advice of our family physician, in the place of stronger stimulants. Four weeks ago I began giving him No-To-Bac, which I bought at Pelham's Pharmacy, and to my great surprise and delight, No-To-Bac completely cured him. He does not care for tobacco, and is very much improved in health, eats heartily and has a much better color.

"Finding such results from the use of No-To-Bac, I began myself, and it cured me after using tobacco, in all forms, for twenty years.

"I make this plain statement for the benefit of others.

"(Signed) J. C. FOGLEMAN."

"What's that?" asked Chief of Police H. S. Hawkins, whose manly form, attired in the new police uniform, like Solomon in all his glory, came to the door.

"Why, No-To-Bac cures!"

"Cures? Why, I should say so. I used it myself. It cured me. I bought one box of No-To-Bac from Pelham and was cured after using tobacco—chiefly chewing—for eight (8) or ten (10) years."

Everybody looked astonished and wondered what would next turn up.

"Suppose it don't cure?" some one asked.

"Then you get your money back," replied the druggist. "No-To-Bac is made by the Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago, Montreal and New York, and every druggist in America is authorized to sell No-To-Bac under an absolute guarantee to cure or money refunded. They always do the square thing. Here, read their famous booklet, 'Don't Tobacco Spit,' and in it." Written guarantee and free sample mailed for the asking.

WEDNESDAY.....APRIL 22, 1896.

Joseph H Choate, the distinguished lawyer, who was a guest at the celebration of the Pennsylvania Railroad, made a telling point when he picked up President Robert's statement that the wealth invested in that corporation, converted into silver dollars, would form a double line 8000 miles in length. What Mr Choate wanted to know was how many miles of gold eagles it would make, and then he added that if the property was ever measured by any other standard the certificates of stock would shrivel like parchment before a fire.

Cuban bonds are now for sale by some of the bankers in Wall street. One large firm recently made this statement "The bonds would of course, be regarded in the nature of a gamble by the majority of our customers, who would probably not consider them a safe speculation. Still there is no reason to believe that the security may not, in a short time be worth the face value in gold During the war of Maximillian Mexican bonds bearing 8 per cent. interest sold at about $2.50 on the thousand dollars. "Yet within three or four years the full face value of those bonds was paid without a hitch. So you see there is reason to believe that the issue of Cuban bonds may also be a success."

David A. Wells in the North American Review traces the progress of the regeneration of Egypt to the English protectorate which followed the suppression of the rebellion of Arabi in 1882. He says the first thing an English finance committee of experts did was to reduce to $50,000,000 the annual taxation of $80,000,000 wrung from less than 5,000,000 people With this reduction there also disappeared a mass of petty exactions which never found their way to the treasury, so that for the first time the Egyptian peasant is allowed to control the fruits of his own labor. Today under English rule, he knows exactly the amount of taxes he has to pay, and when he has to pay them, he is secure against superadded official extortion, as he is against the danger of being compelled to work for the government for nothing.

Slatin Pasha, who recently escaped from the Soudan where he had been held a prisoner ever since the death of Gordon, relates in his book "Fire and Sword," how the Kalifa attempted to force depreciated silver dollars into circulation at a legal value above the market value.

"Ibrahim Adlan," "began to strike dollars and it was aranged that the new dollars should consist of six drahms of silver and two of copper, but should have the same value as the Mejidi dollar. The merchants, however, refused to accept these, and as a punishment the Khalifa confiscated their goods and closed their shops. This brought them to reason, and on agreeing to accept the dollars at their whole value their property was restored. The outcome was an immediate rise of prices to compensate for the difference in value and between the new and old dollars. All the Khalifa knew was that the dollar was accepted and with that he was satisfied."

At a recent dinner in New York of Trinity College graduates, Bishop Potter related this anecdote of himself:

"My memories of Hartford are, I am afraid somewhat mixed. I remember many years ago insuring in the Charter Oak Insurance Company there, the policy of which I shall be very happy to present to your president. (Laughter.) Trinity College conferred on me the degree of D. D. I wear the hood of the college and I am bound to say I look upon myself as one who has suffered for Trinity College. At a consecration service in an outlying district which I conducted some time ago I wore that hood. After the services, which ended, as they had begun by a procession, a young girl who had been present, I was afterward told, said to her aunt: "Well, aunty, how did you like the service?" Oh, I liked his sermon," replied the old lady, "but I pity him, and I think his wife should protect him." Being asked by the girl what she meant, the old lady said. "Didn't you see the back of his robe all burst open, and his red flannel shirt all hanging out?" (Loud laughter.)

A Great Philanthropist Gone.

Baron Hirsch who has just died was one of the world's greatest men. If he had been simply a rich man controlling an immense fortune, there would be little to say about him. But Baron Hirsch used his money for the benefit of the world. A Hebrew, he first turned his attention to his own race. He expended millions for their benefit. His philanthropy extended beyond his own race. He was a broad minded, liberal man whose plans for doing good by the use of money exceeded those of any other man of his time. The richest man save the Rothschilds, in all Europe, he was known in all lands as the friend of the poor. There are no honors too great for the memorial of this world wide philanthropist.

Making Ready for a Nomination.

Recently, when Secretary Carlisle was sounded as to his willingness to accept a nomination for the Presidency, he evaded the question, and yet impliedly answered it in such a way as to make the impression that he would accept such a nomination on a sound money platform If the Democracy in the Chicago convention went over to free coinage, he would not go with them He was more concerned for the attitude which the Democratic party would take on this one question than he was about a nomination. But the two propositions should not have been wide apart in the mind of Secretary Carlisle.—A satisfactory financial plank in the platform and his own nomination.

It was quite in line with this theory that the Secretary should go to Chicago, right where the Democratic convention is to meet, and from that coign of vantage, deliver his elaborate speech on sound money. It was his aim to address the Democracy of the whole country, and if possible, make such an impression as would bring over the majority in the coming convention to his views While there is nothing new speech, there are some rather striking statements the art of putting things is well illustrated in this elaborate address. It is the voice of the sound money man addressed to those who believe in soft money This statement is addressed to wage-earners'

"Money recieved for wages, like money received on every other account is valuable only to the extent that it can be exchanged for other commodities, and it is scarcely necesary to suggest that a dollar worth 50 cents will not purchase as much in the market as a dollar worth 100 cents. To call a dime a dollar would add nothing whatever to its intrinsic value or to its purchasing power. If these propositions are correct it is clear that when wages are in [illegible]

wages must be increased in proportion to the depreciation of the money and in proportion to the increase in the prices of other things, or the laborer will suffer a loss But I affirm that it is the universal rule that wages do not increase in proportion to the increase in the prices of the commodities the laborer is compelled to purchase"

Wherever a depreciated currency has become fiat money to an unlimited extent, it has always driven out the better money Secretary Carlisle argues that this result would follow unlimited silver coinage in this country.

"The annual production of silver in the world is about $216,000,000 at our coinage rate and the annual capacity of our mints to coin standard silver dollars is only about $40,000,000. Last year we coined $43,933,475 in gold and $9,069,480 in silver, so that if our mints were devoted exclusively to the free coinage of standard silver dollars the addition to our stock of metallic money would be about $15,000,000 less every year than it is now, and it would not be good money after it was coined. More than fifteen years would elapse before we could at this rate coin enough depreciated silver dollars to supply the place of the good gold dollars expelled from the country, and, in the meantime a complete revolution would have to be effected in our commercial relations with other nations and in all our domestic business affairs, including a readjustment of the wages of labor, the price of commodities, the rates of municipal, state and federal taxation, charges for transportation and every other matter involving the use of money or credit We should descend by a single step from the highest standard of value to silver monometallism, with a contracted and at the same time a depreciated currency, a financial experiment which has no precedent in the monetary history of the world."

It has been said of late, that Carlisle, who was formerly a free silver advocate, has been brought over to his present view through the influence of President Cleveland, It is far more likely that the latter has been confirmed in his views by the conclusions which Carlisle has reached after a thorough study of the question. However that may be, the address at Chicago has this national significance, that it is a clear and concise presentation of views as held by the Administration, and by the "sound money" men of the country

Siberia is not the cold and inhospitable country that many have supposed. The Inter-Ocean makes this note of the observations of a prominent citizen "Mr. Pangborn, president of the world's transportation commission of the Field Columbian Museum, has just returned from Asiatic Rusia and reports that he was never more surprised in any country and its people than he was with Siberia. He found a delightful country, something like Eastern Ohio, and Western Pennsylvania, not barren and cheerless, but productive and in the summer warm and pleasant, and in all Siberia he found only 400 political prisoners. If Mr. Pangborn states the case correctly the old Russian convict colony has grown into a great nation, and this would raise the question whether the old colonizing idea of the old system of placing convicts in homes in isolated settlements was not better in a reformatory way than the penitentiary system. Certain it is that men sent to Siberia as convicts became good citizens and instead of repelling immigration they became a nation of home-makers. The old penal settlements of Siberia are not the least prosperous districts of Asiatic Russia."

A bill has recently been introduced in Congress that is giving some of the rich Eastern yacht owners much anxiety Heretofore yachts of foreign origin have been permitted to enter ports of the United States without clearing at the custom houses or paying tonnage tax The new measure proposes to abrogate all this by a clause which says: "The privileges conferred are not to extend to yachts built outside of the country, and owned, chartered or used by citizens of the United States."

Should the proposed measure go through it will be a bitter pill for such men as Ogden and Robert Goelet, Rutherford Stuyvesant, A. J. Drexel and Eugene Higgins to swallow, and, what is more, it was meant that it should be. All these men are having boats built for them in British shipyards with the exception of Messrs. Stuyvesant and Higgins, whose yachts, the Archurus and the Veruna, are built already. Four of these orders were obtained by Geo. L. Watson when he came over with Valkyrie III, and American designers are naturally indignant.

A report was recently sent up from Georgia that gives the real explanation of the sudden ending of the joint debate between ex-Speaker Crisp and Secretary Hoke Smith; it was not that given in the dispatches—Mr. Crisp's bad health. It was the fact that this drawing of the line so sharply between sound money and free silver Democrats was stirring up such an intensity of feeling as to threaten party disruption and the transfer of such a heretofore solidly Democratic State as Georgia to the Republicans. The ex-Speaker and the Secretary were induced by the leaders of the party to stop their debate of the money question before the breach was past spanning.

How They Caught a Tartar.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union, or that part of it represented in three or four counties, recently held a conference at Pacific Grove. It was deemed a suitable occasion to invite Joaquin Miller to deliver a lecture in furtherance of the interests of that association. Having invited one who was not in sympathy with the spirit and purpose of their plans, a fact which they could easily have ascertained it was according to the logic of events that Miller should have ridden a bronco right into the temperance convention.

And now some of the members affirm that "if Miller had been talking for the benefit of the liquor traffic his lecture would have fitted the idea very nicely. But we do not believe in his ways and his lecture was wholly inappropriate and entirely out of place in an assemblage of Christian temperance women. Another member represented that Miller rambled around a great deal, that aside from his temperance views, his lecture from a literary point of view was uninteresting and unpleasant to the listeners. His attire was unbecoming and so on.

Miller will probably be amused by this criticism. He never pretended to be a temperance man, nor even an orator. But he has a way of blurting out his own views in a rambling and disjointed way, to the great discomfort of his audience. It would have been worth the price of the lecture to have seen that audience at Pacific Grove with Miller in bronco dress, his pantaloons tucked in his boot tops, dealing out his anti-temperance views to his amazed hearers. They had caught a Tartar, but he must have offered piquant sauce on that occasion.

Effects of the Brown Decision

It was a foregone conclusion that the conference yesterday would not mince matters in the Brown case. The decision yesterday was in the nature of a judgment on the verdict rendered by the council which sat in San Francisco. His judges on that occasion became his accusers yesterday. Besides these, there was a majority of the conference who did not sit in the original case, and only read the proceedings as they appeared in the newspapers. There was no testimony offered yesterday.

The findings yesterday are probably in accord with public opinion. The original verdict was a merciful one. There was a mild censure of the accused; and then the matter was apparently left with the church for a time to see what action was taken. Nothing was done, save that a minority of the membership signed a petition asking the accused to resign. But this was never formally presented.

The effect of the finding yesterday simply withdraws the fellowship of the churches from Dr. Brown, which might be followed by the withdrawal of fellowship from the church in San Francisco should it persist in sustaining the man. One might wish that there was assurance that the end of the whole matter had been reached. It is narrowed down now to a question of the retention of Dr. Brown by the local church in San Francisco.

THE SOCIETY GIRL'S COLOR.

It Is White for Vest, for Revers, for Collar.

An old saying tells us that after a green Christmas we may expect a white Easter. And a white Easter we have had; nor is there any abatement in the whiteness, now that Easter has been followed by seven days. All have been equally white.

Every woman, when she makes her round of calls, wears a brilliant costume—with a white vest. Every white vest is flanked each side by a white revers, and topped with a white stock collar of ribbons. And all is the whiteness of satin chiffon over satin, the sheen of it mingling with the golden glitter of sequins or embroidery.

To encourage women in this folly, and a charming folly it is, the shops offer white satin revers, ready to be sewed on. Embroidered vests to match can also be secured. Chiffon comes in the prettiest crinkle for the making of these vests, while net is so popular that nothing need be said of its glories. Fine silk mull is perhaps as pretty as any material, but it should be worn over a colored lining, yellow being the most favored.

It is heresy to say it, but white satin revers are not serviceable. They need to be cleaned every time the wearer dons them, or a very slovenly appearance is the result. Therefore, the sensible girl eschews them, wearing in their stead revers of velvet to match her gown, edged with white lace—the indispensable white.

A THREATENED CRISIS.

The City Is Spending More Than It Can Afford.

Auditor Snow Prepares a Statement That Shows the Truth.

There is one thing certain the city must repeal some of the ordinances lately passed authorizing the expenditure of City funds or Oakland is going to be way behind before the end of the year. The Mayor has figured, the expert has figured and the different departments have figured on the financial situation and now the City Auditor has taken a hand and has prepared a statement which he will transmit to the Council at its next meeting to be referred by it to the Finance Committee for food for its meditation.

"I have taken no sides in preparing this," says Mr. Snow, "but it is done more to notify the city's creditors that many of them will not get their money if they are not careful, for the statutes provide that we cannot incur debts this year to be paid out of next year's funds so that a contractor or supply man who does work or furnishes supplies to the city when the fund on which his requisition is drawn is exhausted stands little chance of ever getting his money. It is a guide-post to those who have business dealings with the city and if they do not heed it and come out behind I am not to blame."

The statement is based on three calculations, all of which show a shortage. The first calculation is looking up the situation through rose tinted glass. It supposes every dollar of taxes to be paid and no expenses incurred other than those already incurred by statutes, ordinances and resolutions now in force to which is added the necessary running expenses, such as feeding prisoners and horses, street lighting and sprinkling and sweeping the bituminized thoroughfares. Under these circumstances the shortage would amount to $23,000.

The second calculation is based on the same figuring of frugality, but contemplates that certain taxes against the railroad and electric roads will not be collected. This amounts to $8000 and raises the shortage to $31,000.

The third calculation uses the same basis of expenditures as the two preceding ones, but eliminates the estimated delinquent taxes, the payment of which under the new law may be deferred for five years. This raises the shortage to $42,000.

The only way left for the city to remain solvent is to repeal certain ordinances lately passed authorising the expenditure of money though even if they are not repealed they may never be enacted, for a wary contractor would not agree to the work with the chances so poor for getting his pay. There are but three ordinances which could be so repealed. They are for repairing the Eighth street bridge, for an engine house on the Sixth street lot, and for the purchase of a chemical engine for North Oakland. The money authorized to be expended under these amounts in total to about $20,000, and there still remains a shortage.

One of two things is left to be done, and it may be necessary to do both, either the street sprinklers must be laid off, which for three months would save $12,000, or the electric lights turned off, which would save $5000 a month.

The Council and the Mayor have been at outs ever since he advocated the dollar limit. The Council has held the amount insufficient and the Mayor maintains that the Council is trying to prove its statement by recklessly spending the money.

Some time ago it was rumored that the Council intended to turn off the lights and the Mayor's friends now say that that body is fixing things so that it will be absolutely necessary to carry out the intention.

Use and Abuse of "Slanguages."

Canada's new magazine, Massey's, has a department entitle "Jokoseris," conducted by J. W. Bengough and illustrated with thumb-nail sketches in much the same stlye as Zangwill's department in The Pall Mall Magazine. Here is a simple bit from the March number:

"Theoretically, I object to slang as strongly as anybody—even more strongly if possible, than Sam Jones, the Southern preacher. Sam, however, himself uses it habitually. I trust I do not. I use very little of it, in fact, and that little for a distinct purpose. In strict confidence, I don't mind mentioning what this purpose is—it is simply that I may impress the casual stranger that I am an up-to-date person; because you see, I strongly object to being taken for a Jay—(I don't know clearly what a Jay is, but I have an idea that the word is a recent addition to the English 'slanguage,' and means something green) Most people I believe, share with me the harmless desire to give the impression that they know their way about town; and I don't think there is any cheaper or easier method of arriving at the result than the use—sparingly and occasionally, of course, of mild slang. Some folks, (members of the lower orders or of the upper ten—for here extremes meet) use nothing but slang The most accomplished of lexographers would find it impossible to understand the ordinary conversation of a Bowery boy; and almost equally difficult to translate the fashionable lingo of London or New York. I don't think it's at all nice to carry slang so far as this. By doing so you give the impression that you are a loafer or a 'smart person'—much of the same thing But when into the stream of English undefiled which ordinarily issues from your lips, you drop an occasional slang word, you practically extort from your listener the mental exclamation 'Ah! this man has traveled!' thus unostentatiously, you manage to cover yourself with glory. See?"

TAXES AVOIDED HERE.

Councilman Bassett Springs One on the Stock Corporations.

Editor Tribune Sir.—Little more than two years ago the Davie Ferry & Transportation Company was required to pay and did pay to the City and County of San Francisco a tax of ten cents on each share of stock issued or transferred. This tax was paid in compliance with a State law which is as follows

TAX

An Act Imposing a Tax on the Issue of Certificates of Stock Corporations

Section 1 It shall be lawful for the secretary of every corporation in the State of California to demand and receive of any person requiring the issue to him of any certificate of stock in such corporation, a fee of ten cents in coin for each certificate, whether such certificate be the original issue or an issue on transfer, and such certificate shall not be delivered by the secretary until such fee shall be paid.

Section 2 It shall be the duty of the secretary of every such corporation on the first Monday in January, April, July and October of each year, to make returns, under oath, to the Tax Collector, or officer acting as Tax Collector of the number of certificates issued by the corporation of which he is secretary, during the quarter preceding and pay to such Tax Collector the sum of ten cents in coin for each and every certificate so issued by said corporation, except that in the City and County of San Francisco such returns and payments shall be made to the license tax collector or officer engaged in the collection of licenses in said city and county

Section 3. Such Tax Collector or License Collector is hereby authorized and empowered to examine such secretary under oath as to the truth of said returns, and to examine, if necessary, the books of such corporation, so far as they relate to the transfer of stock, or issue of certificates, and if the returns are not correct, then he is authorized to commence an action against such corporation in any court of competent jurisdiction, in the name of the People of the State of California, for a penalty of One Hundred Dollars for each certificate issued by such corporation and not so returned under oath, and several penalties may be found in such action.

Section 4 Any person violating the provisions of section two of this act shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor and false swearing to any return provided in section two, shall be deemed perjury

Section 5 All moneys collected under the provisions of this act shall be paid by such Tax Collector, or License Collector into the County Treasury and shall become a part of the general fund, or if there shall in any county be no general fund, then the same shall become a part of such fund as the Board of Supervisors may direct

Approved April 1, 1878—Stats 1877-8, p. 965

If this law has not been repealed is it enforced in this county and if not why not? There are a number of mining companies here. Street railroad stock is changing hands. A short time ago much of the stock of the California Bank, Collins' bank, was transferred. Only a few days since there was a commotion in the stock of the Contra Costa Water Company. If the law is law there is ten cents due the county on each issued or re-issued share of stock of every corporation. It is worth looking after.

Oakland, April 21, 1896.

J. M. BASSETT.

P. S.—Since writing the foregoing I have conferred with a number of our leading lawyers who all assure me that the law as quoted above is in full force. J. M. B.

THE UMPIRE.

The opening of the baseball season in the East, shows that the sport there has lost none of its favor, but instead has increased in popularity. This is evident by the fact that at the six games played, there was a total attendance of over 82,000 people, the Philadelphia-Boston game, alone, being witnessed by 23,000 spectators, while even Louisville, which heretofore has been considered a poor ball town, played to an audience of 10,000

This attention to the sport in the East is in striking contrast to the lack of interest apparent on this coast. With San Francisco and the immediate cities to draw from it does seem that a first class league could be supported here That such an attempt is in progress, is generally known, but the older heads are not at all sure that the proposed league will be a lasting success.

In speaking to an old-timer recently, concerning the new venture, the question arose as to where the material for the clubs would come from, if the games were inaugurated

'Why," he said, "I have not the faintest idea that this talk will ever amount to anything Where are their players? Tip O Neill carried away with him the few available men, when he recently took a carload of the clever amateurs up north recently Now we have no men left at all, who are not already signed with Eastern clubs Look at the last attempt at league games. It was a dismal frost and why? Because the people will not take interest enough in the game to support it. So now the managers are confronted with a double problem, first to get the players and second to get the public. The first is hard enough, but the latter has been proved well nigh impossible."

* * *

The Northwestern League has among its players many California professionals as well as amateurs. The men O'Neill took up with him, will go to the Victoria Club, under Gus Klopf O'Neill himself, will play second base.

Many of the men are shaky regarding the financial success of this league In 90 and 91 it was a failure and now that this year, Victoria is in the circuit with Portland, Tacoma and Seattle, it is argued that the expenses will be necessarily so great, owing to the long jumps, that the league cannot stand the strain. However, it is a well known fact that salaries are much lower this year than heretofore and this in some measure will make up for the added expenses.

Van Haltern's work this season is much better than in the past. Eastern journals freely comment on his good form and predict for the California boy a glorious success this year. In a recent game he demonstrated his cleverness. Van Haltern was playing out in the field with his club but for seven straight innings the score tallied up heavily on the wrong side. The regular pitcher was then taken out of the box and Van substituted. In the remaining two innings he not only covered himself all over with glory, but brought victory to his club, though only by the small margin of one run.

The Californians present, tendered him an ovation and after the game he was honored by a reception, at which even some Congressmen were present.

The make-up of the New York club this year leaves Stafford out in the cold, but it will not be long before he will be signed to hold down the second bag for some one of the big Eastern clubs.

Roscoe Coughlin plays with Springfield this year and he is said to be in excellent form.

The report that Vincent Dalley, Oakland's left field for '89, had his hand cut off in a saw mill, is entirely erroneous. He will be seen with the Eastern League all season with both hands intact.

* * *

Minor league teams are springing up all over the State like mushrooms and prospects are propitious for a good minor league. Among the clubs already in the field from the immediate vicinity are the Acme, Reliance, Oakland, San Francisco, Centerville, "Pilot" of Santa Cruz; Fresno and Sacramento clubs.

Without doubt, if these organizations would form a combination to play a regular series of games, baseball would be given a big boom

In this connection, the local clubs suffer from the lack of suitable grounds on which to run bases. If some one of the many electric lines would fit up a good diamond, it would be profitable, not only to the company, but to the players as well, for then a local league would surely be formed and it is possible that the combination might stretch out to San Francisco and through the immediate south.

At present Oakland clubs are ashamed to invite other teams to play match games on vacant lots and as a consequence, the visitors here are few and far between.

If some enterprising car line sees fit to place grounds at the disposal of the players, it can have the assurance that games will be played to a free gate. The increased revenue, in fares, alone, would certainly warrant such a project.

Wheelmen all over the country have been misled by the publication of a supposed bulletin from L. A. W. headquarters The section which has caused widespread comment is as follows:

"Any cyclist ceases to be an amateur by riding after April, 1896, in a bicycle race upon any make of bicycle offered for sale or manufactured in any factory, store or other place of business in which he is employed in any capacity whatsoever."

That there is no authority for any such statement, Chairman Gideon emphatically asserts and in his recent bulletin he states the case in the following words:

"There is no such rule in our racing rules, and it is not intended there shall be this year Clause F of the amateur rule in the L. A. W. constitution provides that any racing man employed in a cycle establishment may, by a vote of the racing board, be transferred to the professional ranks. This does not mean that the board will make wholesale transfers of such employes, but that it may use its discretion in transferring racing employes against whom it may be impossible to obtain other evidence, and by whom the board may believe that advantages are received contrary to the spirit of the amateur definition."

It is also apparent from this last that employers of bicycle firms are not necessarily declared professionals by their connection with the business, and this will be welcome news to many who thought they were barred from amateur races

THE UMPIRE.

CYCLE TOPICS.

A Warning From the L. A. W. Which should Be Considered.

The recent bulletin ,issued by Chairman Gideon of the L. A. W., is of particular interest to local riders, especially those connected with the various schools It is as follows.

"Race-meet promoters and managers of school and college track teams will please note the following. Every year about this time the various colleges and schools begin to develop racing men to represent them at the intercollegiate and interscholastic outdoor games. It is customary to run off one or more trials to pick out a team. Racing throughout the United States is governed by the L A W, and the L. A. W. requires that every track race be sanctioned A man competing in an unsanctioned event is liable to suspension.

Now, young men in particular may not care whether they are suspended or not, but they are sure to find somebody at the final meet from some other college who does care, and will not allow them to ride if under suspension. The trouble occurs every year, when by a little caution it can be prevented.

Remember that every race on a track, be it one event or more, must be sanctioned. If you are to have any trials send for sanction every time. For open races a fee is charged, but no fee is required for closed clut or school events, but in all cases send for sanction and save your men from suspension, which in one or more cases last year affected the standing of the school in points won at the championship meeting."

Allan Jones and Walter Foster will form this year's racing team for the Rambler people Both are record-breakers, and though they have been transferred to the professional class, will undoubtedly win money all along the line.

Foster may follow the National Circuit, though Jones will not compete outside of the immediate vicinity.

BALL TOSSERS.

The Mail Carriers Meet With Defeat—Acme Game Sunday.

The Oakland mail carriers and the Joyce ball clubs played a game last Sunday on St. Mary's College grounds. The Joyce nine won by a score of 21 to 13,

The feature of the game was the playing of Ike Cohen.

Postmaster White managed the Mail Carriers and James A. Joyce the club bearing his name.

The Acme and Saturday Press ball clubs meet Sunday on the Campus of St. Mary's College.

THE RELAY DISCUSSION.

The Latest Phase of the Situation Regarding the Winners.

On Monday night the Bay City Wheelmen turned over to the board of governors of the Associated Cyclers, the much disputed cup. It will be held by that body until the dispute is definitely settled

There is dissension in the ranks of the Garden City Cyclers over the protest filed by that club against the Bay City Wheelmen.

The club is divided as to the advisability of pushing the protest against the winning team, most of the members believing that the matter should be dropped. If the decision of the Garden City Cyclers would control the acts of the Associated Clubs, the Bay City Wheelmen would be declared the winners of the cup, even though they have openly violated sporting etiquette by having the club name engraved upon it before it was awarded to them.

The meeting of the officials of this division of the League of American Wheelmen, which was to have taken place next Saturday night in the rooms of the Reliance Club Wheelmen, has been postponed. The next meeting will take place immediately after the circuit races next month.

Y. M. C. A. SPORTS.

On Thursday evening the Oakland and San Francisco Association clubs of the Y. M. C. A. will meet at the local gymnasium in a game of basket ball. Admission will be free and a good attendance is anticipated.

ALAMEDA DRIVERS.

Money Raised for Constructing a Circular Track.

The meeting Monday evening of the Alameda Driving Association proved a productive one. Much interest was manifested in the proposition to construct a one-mile circular track and that the project was popular was evident by the subscription of $500 at that time, toward the movement.

The plan is to lay out a track on the marsh land just below the boulevard and if this is done the gentlemen drivers will have an excellent place on which to test the speed of their horses.

The subscription list which is still open, is in charge of the following members Judge Ellsworth, Dr C. G. Bull, Charles L. Gardner, C. S. Neal and Payne Shafter.

YACHTING COMMENCES.

The Encinal Club Inaugurates the Season's Aquatic Events.

The Encinal Yacht Club opening was not the glowing success anticipated, owing to squally weather, Sunday. However, those who attended the event were amply repaid for their trouble and the affair was at least a joyous round of merry making, if not a great aquatic entertainment.

Owing to the fact that the Commodore's El Sueno could not be moved from the mud bank, the yacht parade was not possible, but E W. Taylor and Stanley Stephensen on the "Emerald" and Captain Hanley on the "Caprice" interested the spectators with the handling of their respective craft.

Stephensen managed to cause excitement by falling overboard, but as he is an expert swimmer, he suffered no more than receiving a ducking.

In the evening a much larger attendance experienced the hospitality of the club. F. R. Ziel, with steropticon views of nautical nature; H. A. Melvin, Alex Roxborough, the Philomela Quartette, Acme Quartette, Captain John Leale of the Bay City and Charles Hart rendered a choice collection of songs. Afterwards dancing to the strains of Yanke's orchestra concluded the festivities.

FOR COLLEGE HONORS.

The Berkeley and Stanford Clubs Will Cross Bats.

This afternoon Berkeley and Stanford ball clubs meet on the University of California campus in the first of a series of three games to decide the annual championship. The game will undoubtedly be a close one for both teams are in good trim.

Berkeley relies on no single individual star, but rather on general team work. Stanford on the other hand looks to McLaine, their clever pitcher, to hold up Palo Alto's honors, for they acknowledge their club is not as strong as it might be. However, McLaine is looked to to strengthen whatever weak points may be evident In speaking of him a Palo Alto correspondent says:

McLaine is naturally a pitcher. As a child up in the little mining town of Volcano, Amador County, where he was born twenty-two years ago, he showed a remarkable accuracy and later, when his parents moved to San Francisco and he entered St. Mathew's Hall at San Mateo, his skill gained him immediate recognition as the phenomenal young pitcher of his school, a reputation that remained with him up to the time of his graduation in 1891. For several years he occupied the box in every game that his school team played with Belmont School, the University of the Pacific, Trinity School and the local nines of the towns in the Santa Clara Valley. And those were the days when baseball was in its zenith.

"In 1892 he entered Stanford and made the Varsity in his Freshman year. Now in his Senior year he is in the fourth season."

The make-up of the Berkeley club will be as follows:

Bay City Flour makes the best bread.

THE NATIONAL CIRCUIT.

Good Prizes Will Be Offered for Professional Riders.

The National Racing Circuit as already announced, will open at the May Day Fete in Oakland The managers have decided to offer special inducements to professional racers, increasing the prizes to $100 for firsts, $50 for seconds and $25 for thirds This will probably induce some of the best racing men in the country to follow the circuit from the beginning, especially as the prizes offered by other race-meet promoters in this State will be of similar value. There will be three professional and two amateur events at the opening meet.

From Oakland the circuit chasers will go to Santa Rosa to race at the opening of the new three-lap track which is nearing completion at that place.

From Santa Rosa the circuit will go to San Jose for the Garden City Cyclers' meet on May 9th.

After a week's rest there will be a race meet in San Francisco on the six-lap board track at Central Park.

From that time on the meets will take place on the following dates at the places enumerated:

Phoenix, Ariz., May 30; Tucson, Ariz., June 1; El Paso, Tex., June 3; San Antonio, Tex., June 6; Laredo, Tex., June 8; Houston, Tex., June 10; New Orleans, La., June 13; Little Rock, Ark., June 16; St Louis, Mo., June 20, Kansas City, Mo, June 23; Peoria, Ill, June 25, 26, 27; Galesburg, Ill., July 1, Davenport, Ia., July 2; Chicago, Ill., July 11; Appleton, Wis, July 9; Milwaukee, Wis., July 4; Battle Creek, Mich., July 17, 18; Detroit, Mich, July 14; Toledo, O., July 21, 22; Lima, O., July 25, Springfield, O., July 28; Dayton, O, August 1; Nashville, Tenn., August 3; Evansville, Ind., August 5, Cincinnati, O., August 7, 8. Louisville, Ky., August 10, 11; Erie Pa., August 18; Washington, D. C., August 17.

ACMES VICTORIOUS.

They Defeat the Reliance Club in the Ball Game.

A very close game of ball was played by the Reliance and Acme Clubs, Sunday on St. Mary's College campus. The clubs were pretty evenly matched but Campbell's delivery for the Reliance and the Acme's adeptness in stealing bases were accountable for the victory which the Acme Club gained, by a score of 16 to 13.

The nines were as follows:

Reliance: Campbell, third base; Wolton, catcher; Dyer, second base; Ewing, right field; Knowles, left field; Ireland, center field; Oliver, first base; J. Arlett, shortstop; Campbell, pitcher.

NO PRESIDENT CHOSEN.

Police and Fire Commissioners Have Another Stormy Conclave.

They Fail to Agree on the Proposition of Electing a Head.

The Police and Fire Commissioners held another stormy meeting yesterday afternoon, a squabble occurring over the attempted election of a president.

As at last meeting, Mr. Piersol nominated Mr. Wilson and that gentleman looked longingly at the Mayor for a second. But the Mayor returned the glassy eye, and in response to the City Engineer's question, said point blankly that if he wanted a second he must make it himself. This Mr. Wilson refused to do, and the election was declared off.

Charges were brought by Chief Fair against William Schultz. The Mayor had some uncomplimentary things about deciding a case first and then hearing the evidence. Tart replies were on the lips of his colleagues, when the attorney calmly arose and averted the tempest by his dignified presence. He entered a plea of not guilty for his client, and the case was set for hearing Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Expert Kaufman offered some suggestions, and was asked to keep quiet while the communication from Chief Lloyd recommending additional adornment to the police officers' uniforms was read. The Mayor said he was in favor of not uniforming the force at all, and it was finally decided to let the matter rest until the Chief came before the Board and explained.

James Mulgrew and James Dolan, two firemen, who, in the discharge of duty, were hurt, were allowed pay for the time their injuries laid them up.

MOSES TO GO EAST.

The rumor is afloat in the University that Professor Moses of the chair of economics and history intends to resign in order to accept a chair in the University of Chicago. Professor Moses has not as yet made any announcement in reference to the matter and it is hoped that the report is not founded on facts. Professor Moses would be greatly missed, as he has been one of the most active and progressive men in the faculty. Professor Moses intends to deliver a course of fifty lectures at the Chicago University this summer and will depart for that city after the close of the college term.

INTERCOLLEGIATE BASEBALL.

The first intercollegiate baseball match occurs this afternoon on the U. C. campus. The game will be a very exciting one and will probably be closely contested. Both teams have been training hard and play a scientific game. Souvenir score-cards are out that are very striking and artistic in effect.

INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATE.

The intercollegiate debate between the University of California and Leland Stanford, Jr., University will occur on Saturday evening, in Metropolitan Temple, San Francisco. The U. C. boys feel very confident of winning the debate. Stanford is supposed to have the stronger side, but Berkeley has clever speakers.

GENERAL GOSSIP.

The new tennis court at the Beta house is completed.

Professor Ritter lectured last evening on "Present State of Knowledge Concerning the Segmental Structure of the Vertebrate Head."

Professors Stringham and Slate have returned from their tour through the State. Professor Lange is expected to return tomorrow.

Professor Leuschner of the Astronomy Department, who has recently been granted a year's leave of absence in order to pursue his studies in Europe, will be married before he leaves to Miss Denike of San Francisco and the honeymoon will be spent in Europe.

The Oakland.

The Oakland theater is presenting that clever comedy-drama entitled "A Barrel of Money" this week. It is well staged and excellently played. It is full of wit and blends the ridiculous and the pathetic in an exceedingly attractive way. The dialogue is clever and full of local hits and fun making. Some of the scenes are exceedingly laughable, while others are touching and pathetic.

The Fifth a Loser.

The report of the school census takers shows that the Fifth ward has lost in school pupils since 1892. Last year the census showed a loss of twenty-seven from the previous year. In 1893 and 1894 there was a gain of twenty-five over 1892, but in 1592 the loss was fifty. How much the deficiency will be this year has not been actually determined, as the report has not been fully completed.

More Honors for Stratton.

Frederick S. Stratton has been appointed attorney of the People's Home Savings Bank for the suits against shareholders for the unpaid capital stock.

The Reason for It.

"They builded better than they knew" has been familiar to us for years. Nature fully realized what it was doing when it located those famous mineral springs at Byron. To build up exhausted human vitality—the result of dissipation, rheumatism, catarrh, blood diseases, or any of the various ills that are common to the human family—is the one particular thing that nature intended Byron Hot Springs for. A good idea of the resort may be gained at the broad gauge ferry depot, where a huge painting of the place is exhibited.

They make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, giving tone and vigor to the system.

General Manager Kruttschnitt Talks to West Oakland People.

THE MARSH IS DISCUSSED.

The Southern Pacific Company Will Do All in Its Power.

ENTHUSIASM WAS MANIFESTED.

West Oakland's Improvement Club Holds a Rousing Meeting.

The meeting of the West Oakland Improvement Club in Hansen's hall, corner of Eighth and Wood streets, last night, attracted one of the most representative gatherings of citizens of that section of the city that has ever been held in that place of assemblage. The hall was filled with people ranging in callings from the humblest laborer to men of means and distinction in the various walks of life. Many of those present were accompanied by ladies. While the gathering was considered in the light of a regular meeting of the club, special interest attached to it because General Manager Julius Kruttschnitt of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company had accepted an invitation to be present, to discuss with the members ways and means of improving that section of the city.

Among those present were C. H. Redington, J. C. Bullock, M. Cuvellier, W B. Ludlow, Frank Mott, J. J. Harrington, J. Schonfeldter, D. Steffonin, Geo Drake, A. Fick, H. Wadkins, J. Allman, C. Christen, Mrs. Dr. Anthony, Mrs. Deering, Wm Berry, E. F. Brown, J C. Dunn, W. W. Morrison, Phil M. Walsh, Ira Underwood, A. Austen, C. Neilson, H E. Kensten, Z. T. Rohrback, P C. Conner, J. C. Colburn, W. J. O'Connell, Frank Senram, E. M Long, John P. Irish, D. J. Leming, J. Reed, Mr. Nor, James Duffy, Thomas Estrom, P Flynn, Andrew Hollywood and many others.

Mr. Kruttschnitt made his appearance at an early hour accompanied by B. C. Cuvellier and was introduced to a number of the members who had already assembled. He was courteously received and seemed to create favorable impression with everybody.

Mr. Kruttschnitt is a man of about 45 years of age, of heavy build, full round face, regular features, dark complexion, a sharp, piercing eye and a small head covering of short black hair He would readily be selected in a crowd as one born to command and this fact was given expression to by many persons who saw him last night for the first time.

Shortly after 8 o'clock the meeting was called to order by President Stark

Secretary Wines read the minutes of the last meeting and the same were adopted.

The Park and Street Committees reported progress

The secretary read a communication from W W Garthwaite which announced that the latter would be willing to sell, for park purposes, eight acres of marsh land in West Oakland for $5000.

The following communication was read by the secretary

"Oakland, Aug 20.—President of the West Oakland Improvement Club: I have your favor of even date announcing that General Manager Kruttschnitt will meet the club tomorrow evening, and inviting me to be present also. It would afford me much pleasure to meet the club on this occasion, but, unfortunately, I have an engagement that cannot very well be postponed

"I beg to assure you, however, that both officially and as a resident of the territory known as 'West Oakland,' I take an interest in the club and shall be glad to do anything that I can consistently to further the object for which it has been organized.

"Thanking you for the invitation, and regretting my inability to be present at the meeting of your club tomorrow evening, I am yours very truly,

"A. D. WILDER, Supt"

The conclusion of the letter was greeted with cheers

On motion of Oliver Lindsey the communication read were filed

W. J. O'Connell, of the committee appointed to confer with the Pacific Improvement Company with reference to the filling of the hole, west of Pine street and between Lincoln and Fourteenth streets, said:

"Mr. Wines and myself called on the Pacific Improvement Company. In doing so we came in contact with Mr. Douty, the president of the association, a gentleman whom I have known from childhood. He showed us, in discussing the question, that he was better acquainted with it than those who went to see him. He took a map down and showed us where the depressions were and what the place needed to improve it. He coincided with us as to the wants of West Oakland and said that he would co-operate with us in doing what he could to improve this part of the town. He sent his man down with us to see General Manager Kruttschnitt, but as Mr Kruttschnitt was busy we returned home after being told what the company expressed a willingness to do for us."

This report was received with cheers.

B. C. Cuvellier wanted to know whether another committee had not been appointed to take some steps toward the filling of the hole in question. But no information was vouchsafed on the point

Councilman Mott, who was present with a map showing the location of the mudhole in question, was requested to come forward and explain it.

Mr Mott complied with the request and said

"The Council has had this matter under consideration for some time but has made very little progress. The Mayor, the City Engineer, the Board of Public Works and other officials have visited the spot and declared it a nuisance and that it ought to be abated. We are unable from the assessment roll to tell who the owners of the place are The tract lies between the bay shore and the railroad embankment. We had a search made and have a map which was made by the searcher which shows the Peralta patent line and the western line of the bay shore and the railroad trestle As near as we can tell the ownership in the east side is in the Northern Railroad Company and part in the Pacific Improvement Company, the rest is credited to no one. The assessments are paid by no one. There is no doubt but it is included in the city's claim. The patent line follows all around the city and strikes through the middle of this piece of land. I don't know what the city has determined to do If the railroad company should fill the lot perhaps the city would come in and claim it. Not many years ago, the tide ebbed and flowed here, and now sewers have been extended there to the edge of the water and they are an eye sore.

TALKS TO THE POINT

Mr. Kruttschnitt was then asked if he would like to speak on the subject and, in coming forward in response to the invitation, said.

"My attention was called to this matter first at the beginning of the week. I understand the question to be the filling up of that area of flooded land between the boundaries indicated. In looking on the map, I see that the Northern Railroad Company owns one-third of that hole. So far as the Northern Railroad Company is concerned it will co-operate with the city so far as it is interested in the property. If it owns one-third of the property, it will pay for the filling of one-third. If it owns one-half of the property, it will pay for filling one-half of it. But, before any work is done, there should be an examination to ascertain to whom the property belongs. If it is owned in part by private owners, they should pay their proportion for the filling of that spot. I see that a part of the land is marked to the Pacific Improvement Company. Your committee has reported to you what that company will do. I am glad that you have heard directly from the company. I am not connected with it but I am confident that whatever the Railroad Company does the Pacific Improvement Company will do the same thing. Another part of the land seems to be owned by no person. Together, we could ascertain who are the owners of the land When that has been done, I can assure you the co-operation of the railroad company in the filling of that flooded area. When a knowledge of the ownership of the land has been obtained we can work together in abating the nuisance."

These remarks were made in earnest and convincing manner, were received with applause

John P. Irish was called on and said that the little piece of land which it was desired to have improved was insignificant when compared with the hundreds of acres north of Twelfth street. The nuisance was one not created by the city. It came with graciousness, the statement made by General Manager Kruttschnitt, that the railroad company would assist in abating the nuisance. It ought to be easy to ascertain who owns the ground and if the owners would do as the railroad promises to do, the ground could be easily filled.

Mr. Irish then referred to the condition of the marsh above Twelfth street. He said a nuisance existed there which was created by the city. The place had originally been an innocuous salt marsh, but the city had destroyed it by means of broken sewers. In the payment of taxes, there were no taxes so difficult to pay as the taxes for the sick. He had been paying them for several weeks because he has had sickness in his home as a consequence of the marsh. When the railroad company had done what it had, the association should take some steps to abate the marsh nuisance. He had talked with conductors and motormen on the Twelfth street line and had learned that it was the customary thing when they pased the hole in question, to drop their breakfasts because of the smell which arose from the hole. He had learned from officials of the road that they were compelled to change their men frequently because of sickness occasioned by the hole in question. He hoped that the members of the association had not forgotten that the Council recently had appropriated money out of the general fund to pave certain streets in East Oakland Did anybody ever hear of the Council appropriating money out of the general fund to put down a piece of bitumen in West Oakland? We have made for years," he continued, "an effort to abate the nuisance by converting the marsh into a public park. If we could get the Council to aid us in this improvement it would be a grand thing to know that we have the co-operation of the railroad company. In the southern part of the state where the people make successful efforts to permanently beautify and improve their homes and towns, the Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific co-operate with the people and build architecturally fine and beautiful depots in keeping with the surroundings. If the people here conclude to improve the natural advantages of Oakland we would like to know whether the railroad company would build an architecturally beautiful station at Oakland which is a terminal station. The mole is only a way-station between this city and San Francisco.

Mr. Irish then said that these improvements would result in a great advantage to the Southern Pacific as well as to the people.

B. C. Cuvellier was then called for and said:

"I agree with Col. Irish. The true salvation is that the city should take steps to fill up the marsh. A portion of the marsh was filled up by the private owners. They placed from five to six feet of earth, sand and shells washed with water from the bay and it made as fine a piece of property as one would desire to see. Colonel Irish tells me that grass is growing on it now The only way the city can reclaim the marsh west of Peralta street is to condemn and use it for a public park. With regard to the question which Mr. Irish has propounded to Mr. Kruttschnitt as to whether the railroad company would build a depot if the city should build a park at West Oakland, I think it too premature. I think it reasonable that the railroad company should stand with the people. It is safe to take it for granted the Southern Pacific will do something for us I tell you the railroad company is human like other people. This part of the city is the dearest spot to us because our homes are here. We want the co-operation of the railroad when we ask for these improvements. I have taken some interest in public affairs and politics and I want to say with regard to my stand in the matter that when the railroad is right I believe in giving it fair play. When the railroad is wrong I believe in giving it ——. I endorse what Mr. Irish has said and hold that the Council ought to give us fair play in West Oakland. They are all the time talking about improvements in East Oakland, but they are not spending any money here I got so tired of this matter some time ago that if I could have sold my property I would have moved away. But I could not sell. You can't sell your property Isn't that the case? Isn't that so? I appeal to the Council to give us fair play and help us to abate this nuisance and condemn this land so that we may make a park out of it. They ought to condemn this land and submit the question of a park once more to the people of the city. The question was submitted once to the people It required a two-thirds vote to carry it. We did not get quite that vote but we got. I think Mr. Irish told me, considerably more than half. We ought to try it again. The people may by this time have changed their minds"

Mr. Cuvellier's remarks were received with cheers.

KRUTTSCHNITT THANKED

On motion of Mr. Lindsey a vote of thanks was extended to General Manager Kruttschnitt for the frank and generous co-operation which he had promised the club in its attempts to improve the western part of the city.

President Stark then said that in order to accomplish anything it was necessary to unite their forces west of Market street. It would not require much money to purchase the land necessary for a park. He thought the ground could be purchased for $60,000 and that it could be improved and beautified for $30,000 more. If they made a united effort they could accomplish a great deal. For that reason he extended an invitation to all who were not members of the club and who resided in the district west of Market street to come forward and sign the roll of membership The expenses of the club were defrayed by the payment of dues at the rate of ten cents per month.

W. J. O'Connell said that at the last meeting it was decided that membership was limited to people residing in the Forty-ninth Assembly District, the eastern boundary of which was the west line of Adeline street.

President Slater said that if such was the case the membership would be limited to the people residing west of Adeline street.

Mr. Cuvellier said that if membership were limited to the territory west of Adeline street, the rules should be changed, because they cut many good people who reside west of Market street.

They would cut out John P. Irish, who lived on the east side of Adeline street.

Mr. Irish spoke in favor of extending the limits to Market street, claiming the club would increase its power and influence in that manner.

The president said that that matter would be discussed at the next meeting of the club which would be held on next Tuesday night

On motion of Mr. Cuvellier, the meeting then adjourned.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 22.—Ex-Congressman William E. Simmonds was made permanent chairman of the Republican State Convention today.

Ex-Governor Morgan, G. Bulkley, John I. Hutchinson, Arthur Brewer and Samuel Fessenden were elected delegates-at-large.

The platform opens with the declaration in favor of protective tariff and the reciprocity plan. Upon the currency question the Convention says:

We are unalterably opposed to the issue of unsecured paper currency, either by Government or banks and free coinage silver at any ratio and favor the single standard value and that standard gold. We believe this policy, with sound and stable currency upon a gold basis, will furnish sufficient revenue to meet all requirements of the Government and properly support it.

The electoral vote of Connecticut is pledged to whoever may be the Republican nominee for the Presidency.

NEBRASKA.

The Democrats Come Out in Favor of Free Silver.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LINCOLN, Neb., April 22.—The free silver Democrats of Nebraska met in State Convention today to elect four delegates at large to the National Democratic Convention. Every county is represented with no opposition from the other faction of the party which holds a convention at Lincoln one week hence.

W. J. Bryan and C. J. Smyth are slated for two delegates at large.

Ex-Governor Boyd was urged to accept the place on the State delegation, but positively declined to have his name go before the convention.

Boyd is a sound money man, but opposed to this administration.

MARYLAND.

Republicans Are Called Together in Convention at Baltimore.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

BALTIMORE, April 22.—U. S. Senator elect Geo. L. Wellington, as chairman of the State Central Committee, called the Maryland Republican State Convention to order today.

The mention of McKinley and Reed evoked applause.

The platform declared for a protective tariff and reciprocity. The following is the currency plank:

"We believe in a gold standard upon which to base our circulating medium, and we are opposed to free and unlimited coinage of silver until an international agreement shall give silver larger use."

No instructions are given delegates to the National Convention.

Alabama Democrats.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 22.—The Democratic State Convention today adopted a platform for the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, and instructed the delegates to Chicago to vote as a unit. DAVIE'S KICK.

The Mayor Wants Hodgkins Put Back on Patrol Duty.

The Mayor maintains that Chief Lloyd should dispense with the services of Sergeant Hodgkins as sergeant and put him at work on the regular force, but it is hardly probable that any steps will be taken to enforce this opinion.

The fact that his actions are being criticised by the Mayor does not apparently prey on the mind of Chief Lloyd. "I detailed Hodgkins to act as sergeant and there he will remain," he said this morning. "I did not take the initial step in this matter, as ex-Chief Schaffer appointed him to his office. There is no provision in the charter which says I shall not detail an officer to do sergeant's duty and as no extra pay goes with the place I shall keep Hodgkins where he is."

INDICTMENTS QUASHED.

Judge Greene Holds Those Against Whidden Are Defective.

Menzenmeyer Is Also Released as Juror Held Was Not Qualified to Act.

The remaining five indictments against County Auditor Myron Whidden, were quashed in Judge Greene's court this morning. It is not likely that the present Grand Jury will indict Whidden, although Judge Greene made an order submitting the information to it.

When the matter was called, Whidden was in court, represented by A. A. Moore and George De Golia. District Attorney Snook and Deputy Lin Church appeared for the people.

Judge Greene opened the case by referring to the motion made before Judge Frick to set aside the indictment No. 1746, on the ground that Grand Juror Held was insane at the time the jury was impanelled and continued so during the time the jury was in session and at the time the defendant was indicted. The demurrer further stated that the defendant had not been held by a committing magistrate nor placed under arrest until after the indictment was found.

Judge Greene then gave his opinion as follows:

"I have looked this matter over, also that of Menzenmeyer, and have come to the conclusion that the juror Held, was insane. That he was insane at the time he was sworn as a juror, and continued to be insane up to the time of his death, which resulted I believe from suicide, committed while insane. Now the statute among other things says that indictments of such a nature must be set aside. There are five cases against the defendant Whidden in which these same motions are involved. Indictment No. 1746, is for falsifying records, to wit: "The assessment roll for 1894-1895 in the tax collectors' office." The demurrer claims that the indictment is erroneous as it should charge mutilation and not falsification. There are many other grounds upon which the demurrer is based. There is in my opinion, a bare possibility that the indictment might be good. If the case was tried and defendant convicted, the judgment would be set aside by the Supreme Court. The court now sustains the demurrer and will take further action."

At this point Attorney Moore addressed the court and objected to any further action being taken, as the court had no further jurisdiction.

Judge Greene stated that the law gave him the right to submit the matter to the present Grand Jury and such would be his order.

Attorney Moore, in objecting further to Judge Greene's order, stated that the present Grand Jury had no power to act on the case. The action sustaining his original motion ended the matter and the discharged defendant could not be placed in jeopardy again for an offence he had once been indicted for.

Judge Greene thought differently, however, and overruled the objection with the announcement that the defects in the indictment or all of them may be cured. He then sustained the demurrer to the remaining four charges against Whidden and the one against Menzenmeyer, and ordered the information submitted to the Grand Jury now in session.

The District Attorney will present the matter to the Grand Jury at once and endeavor, if possible to secure the reindictment of Whidden and Menzenmeyer.

GOODWIN GIVEN HIS SEAT.

The Senate Adopts the Indian Bill as Amended by Cockerill.

DEATH OF GENERAL JEFFRIES.

The Filled Cheese Bill Referred to the Committee on Finance.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The President's vetoes of two pension bills were laid before the Senate today.

Gallinger (N. H.) chairman of the Pension Committee, said he regretted the President had seen fit to veto the bills.

Capt. Allabach's military services were such that he might have applied for a pension but did not do so, owing to personal disinclination. While Jones was photographer he received a gunshot wound resulting in total blindness during an attack on Longstreet's lines.

"The President refers to a 'trivial wound,'" said Gallinger. "I will not discuss and suggest what is in my brain for I think that message was written without the knowledge of the facts."

The Pension Committee had not proceeded carelessly and recklessly in favoring these pensions.

"I hold," said Palmer (Ills.) "that when a citizen voluntarily associates himself with the military forces he becomes de facto in military service and if wounded he has the same moral right to a pension as any one formally enlisted."

The vetoes were referred to the Pension Committee.

Many petitions came urging action in behalf of Bishop Diaz, arrested in Cuba. A resolution by Bacon (Ga.) was adopted requesting the State Department to furnish information as to the arrest and as to what steps had been taken toward securing an impartial trial.

GOODWIN IS SEATED.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—(House)—The Fifth Alabama District was not represented in the House over night. Cobb had been unseated but seating the contestant went over until today when the report was adopted by a vote of 145 to 55, and Goodwin was sworn in.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—General N. L. Jefferies, well known to public men as counsel for the Alaska Fur Seal Co., which long controlled the Bering Sea seal business, died suddenly today.

FILLED CHEESE.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The Senate Committee on Agriculture today agreed to report the filled cheese bill as it passed the House, with the recommendation that it be referred to the Finance Committee on the ground that it is a financial bill.

INDIAN BILL.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The Senate by a vote of 38 to 24 has adopted the amendment to the Indian appropriation Bill offered by Cockrell of Missouri, providing that a fifty per cent appropriation for Indian contract schools should be appropriated in the pending bill for such schools.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Consul-General Williams has cabled Secretary Olney as follows:

CLOSED ITS DOORS.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

DENVER, April 22.—The American National Bank failed to open its doors this morning.

The following notice was posted:

"This bank has closed its doors by vote of its directors and is in my hands as a representative of the Government.

"ZEPH T. HILL."

The failure does not come as a surprise nor indicate any lack of confidence in the general business situation.

The condition of the bank has been weak for a long time because of internal dissensions. The retirement from the directorate and sale of the stock of several wealthy men materially reduced the business of the bank.

According to the last report, made at the close of business, March 6th, the total deposits were $1,471,951; loans and discounts, $1,128,271; cash on hand, $232,265. The capital stock is $500,000, and surplus $150,000.

The assets amount to $2,245,173, and it is claimed there will be but little trouble realizing on them.

Resources: Cash and exchange, $70,-

Use Adam's Tuti-Frutti Chewing Gum.

00; bills receivable, $1,078,000; stock and securities, $265,435; real estate, $136,590; excess on circulation, $22,000. Total, $1,572,335.

Liabilities: Individual deposits, $536,712; demand deposits, $28,698; due other banks, $37,824; time deposits, $66,297; borrowed money, $142,500. Total, $865,231.

Comparing this statement with that published in March shows the bank deposits and reserve declined very rapidly. Over $700,000 were withdrawn Monday and Tuesday this week and there being only $70,000 left, the directors decided that the best thing to do was to close the bank.

Besides the resources given above are notes for $500,000 set aside for the recent reduction of the capital stock from a million to $500,000, and fifth interest in the Strong mine at Victor. The president of the bank is John R. Hanna. The directorate consists of some of the leading men of Denver, including Fine P. Ernest, William and Moritz Barth, Mitchell Benedict, George W. Ballantine, T. J. O'Donnell. In consequence of the failure a run has been started on the National Bank of Commerce.

An Editor Sentenced.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

BERLIN, April 22.—Baron Von Hammerstein, formerly editor of the Kreuz Zeitung, and a leader of the Conservative party, was today sentenced to three years' penal servitude, to be deprived of civil rights for five years and pay a fine of 1500 marks. The charges against him were forgery, fraud and breach of trust.

HOSTS IN LOS ANGELES.

Thousands of Spectators View the Grand Floral Parade.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 22.—The city is crowded with sight seers today, who have come to witness the first grand street parade of La Fiesta. The showers early this morning served to lay the dust and the air today was crisp and cool.

Throngs of people lined the streets and filled stands and platforms at Tribunes, where the Queen appeared long before the hour of her coming. The great parade was formed at 1 o'clock at Seventh and Hope streets. In the line which moved at 2 o'clock, appeared long columns of military, U. S. marines and sailor boys from war ships at San Pedro, Indian warriors in full costume, Spanish caballeros and uniformed Fiesta clubs. Many artistic floats emblematic of prosperity and other features appeared, and not least pleasing was Chinese division containing a monster green dragon 250 feet long, operated by 150 invisible Chinamen. This glittering pageant passed along the principal streets of the city after the drill of the marines before the Queen.

TALKS ON OAKLAND.

MR. KRUTTSCHNITT TALKS.

The Railroad Not Interfering in the Water Companies' Fight.

SHOPS NOT TO BE REMOVED.

Denial of Rumors Concerning Topics of Interest to This Side.

A reporter for The Tribune for the purpose of supplementing some of the facts adduced at the meeting held in West Oakland last evening by General Manager Kruttschnitt, called on that gentleman this morning in the offices of the Southern Pacific at the corner of Montgomery and Market street, San Francisco.

Mr. Kruttschnitt seemed to be in the enjoyment of excellent health and spirits and the conversation which was of an informal character which took place between him and the Tribune representative was mainly devoted to the interests of the people of this city in connection with the road which Mr. Kruttschnitt represents.

In the course of the conversation, the reporter referred to the fact that this paper had been informed that certain employes of the Southern Pacific Company who had been taking water from the Oakland Water Company, had been coerced by representatives of the railroad into removing their patronage from that water company and transferring their allegiance to the rival concern in this city.

Mr. Kruttschnitt was asked whether there were any persons in the employ of the Southern Pacific Company who had any authority to so coerce the patrons of one water company in the interests of another and if not what would be the effect of the discovery of persons who had so abused the confidence imposed in them by the Southern Pacific Company.

Mr. Kruttschnitt has a straight forward manner of expression and a face that reveals some of the emotions which he feels interiorily. When he heard this question the expression of Mr. Kruttschnitt's face was that of surprise and amazement.

"No one in authority has authorized any employe to do that. If it has been done," he said, "or is being done, I should like to know who is doing it. I have never heard of such a thing being done before and it is not done with my sanction or that of any person that I know of. As to what would be done to an employe who would so use his position in the employ of this company I cannot say at present. I have made it a practice never to prejudge a case. I have always been governed by the principle of making an investigation and being guided in my action by what I find out."

Mr. Kruttschnitt expressed himself as well pleased with the meeting of last night and in referring to it and the disposition displayed said he would be willing and glad to co-operate with the people of this city in anything that would be consistent in furthering the interests of Oakland.

The conversation then turned on the shops at West Oakland and the relative force of men employed there now and the amount of work done there, as also what hope there is of a still further increase of the plant, and the general manager remarked:

"I asked Mr. Wilder for some facts regarding the shops, the number of men and other features, expecting that the question might be brought up at last night's meeting."

Here Mr. Kruttschnitt drew from his pocket Mr. Wilder's memorandum and read: "We are employing more men at the shops now than we did five years ago although times are not so good as they were then. The amount of wages which we pay monthly to the employes in Oakland is about $140,000.' This," said Mr. Kruttschnitt "amounts to between $1,600,000 and $1,700,000 a year. The shops in Oakland, as in everywhere else are increasing in size owing to the increase in the business of the company. We have before this, been obliged to hold back increasing our shops on account of dull times."

Mr. Kruttschnitt was asked what reliance was to be placed on the threatened removal of the shops from Oakland, and said with a suggestion of annoyance:

"That is about as strange a story as I ever heard. I can't imagine where it started. There is no foundation for it. As an actual fact, a small increase in size is being built to the Oakland shops. This is being done on the recommendation of Mr. Wilder and Mr. McKenzie, because it is impossible to do the work required with the present accommodations. This addition will result in giving three additional engine stalls to the machine shop for the repair of locomotives. I cannot tell, off-hand, the number of locomotives repaired in the Oakland shops. Leaving out the shops at Sacramento and Algiers, which are the two big terminal shops of the Southern Pacific, I think the shops of Oakland come next in the number of men."

Mr. Kruttschnitt then demolished the rumor that shops are to be established in San Francisco as soon as the trains ran in there around the bay along the new line to handle Oakland work.

"That would be very awkward," he said, "to move the engines across the bay in order to have them repaired and send them back again. If you will reason backward you will perceive that the company must have shops in Oakland to repair the engines which come in there. We must take care of the engines that come in there and they must be cared for there. They could not be brought across the bay to be repaired and then shipped back again because that would be very awkward."

"Will the ferry system be increased," asked the reporter, "so that three boats per hour will run on the broad gauge system instead of two boats, as is now the case?"

"I know of no anticipated change of that nature in the service at the present time. The day, of course, will come when the company will have to run more boats, but it will not be done at present."

In connection with the rumor of three boats per hour, has been coupled the rumor of the abandonment of the narrow gauge system to both Oakland and Alameda. Mr. Kruttschnitt answered this rumor by saying that he had never heard of it and, so far as he knew, there were no grounds for it. "Our men," he said, "very often discuss subjects in which the company is interested, but, of course, they do so on their own authority. It may have been that the subject arose in that way."

Mr. Kruttschnitt was then asked as to whether the erection of a single bridge, further east on the estuary, than Alice street would enable the narrow gauge line to Fourteenth street to make its half-hourly trips as at present, because of the increase in the run which would be the result.

"I do not know," said Mr. Kruttschnitt in reply, "that it has been decided to locate the bridge at the point you refer to. Mr. Curtis has been giving some attention to that matter. I know he has appeared before the Government representatives and that a certain showing as to the two bridges now over the estuary has been made. There are several interests to be considered in the matter of those bridges, those of the railroad company, the people and of navigation. It has been claimed that the bridges are obstructions in many ways, but what will be done in making the changes needed I do not know. I believe, however, that when all the parties interested put their heads together there will be an arrangement effected which will be entirely satisfactory."

The subject then introduced was regarding the restoration of pleasant feelings between people who have heretofor been estranged from the company and the management of the corporation.

Mr. Kruttschnitt said he was pleased to be informed that the feeling which had been rankling in the breasts of many people as a consequence of the late strike was disappearing.

"One of the means of preserving a hostile feeling," he said, "is a hostile press. I have been in the railroad business eighteen years and I know that no company intends to and does treat its employes better than does the Southern Pacific. This principle has been instilled into them by Mr. Huntington, Mr. Crocker and others and if they have grievances they have been told that those grievances may be redressed. Only recently I saw in a certain paper the statement that the employes had a grievance against the company and that the time had come for another strike. Such advice is injurious to everybody, but I do not think that the men will follow it."

"BIG FOOT" IN COURT.

Attorney Hall Claims That He Was Not Legally Held by Judge Wood.

When the case of "Big Foot," one of the gold brick men, was called in Judge Greene's court this morning, Attorney Hall, appearing for Gordon, demurred to the complaint on the ground that the defendant had not been examined by a regular committing magistrate. Mr. Hall claimed that the complaint sworn to by S. A. Hofstra before Clerk Crawford was void, as the defendant had not been legally held.

Judge Wood was in the courtroom, ready to answer Attorney Hall, but Judge Greene continued the case one week.

TO MEET IN STOCKTON.

Second Annual Convention of the Epworth Leaguers.

A Large Representation From All Parts of the Oakland District.

The second annual convention of the Epworth League of the Oakland district held in the Chester street M. E. Church yesterday, was attended by delegates from Modesto, Martinez, Livermore, Pleasanton, Stockton, Berkeley, Alameda, Amador, and Golden Gate. Henry G. Turner presided.

The committee on resolutions presented the following:

That the thanks of the convention be heartily given to the pastor and officers of the Chester street Methodist Episcopal Church and League for the royal welcome and excellent entertainment given the members of this convention, such welcome and entertainment contributing so materially to the success of our gathering.

That we express our appreciation of the able and worthy papers presented to the convention, and especially thank those who, though unable to attend, sent their papers.

That we believe the interests of the League work in the Oakland district call for the publication of a live, enthusiastic Epworth League paper.

That in our judgment an annual convention will best serve the interests of the League and Church in this district, and that such convention ought at least to last two full days, with the evening devoted to evangelistic services, and that the programme be so arranged as to give ample time for the discussion of all the themes presented, and also that some time be devoted to a consideration of the great social reform and patriotic questions of the day.

That we look with disfavor upon the action of any organization in the Methodist Episcopal Church expecting to become a League, refusing to adopt the Epworth League pledge in its entirety. We do this with all firmness, and yet with all kindness, on the ground that it is disloyal to the organization as such and also to the Church.

That we are not in favor of the elimination of the amusement clause from the book of discipline, and we most sincerely hope that the general conference will take no backward step in this matter.

That we urge upon all our Leaguers the value and importance of the Epworth Herald and reading course, believing these agencies to be mighty in the upholding of an intelligent type of New Testament piety.

Professor M. S. Cross, dean of the University of the Pacific, then gave an address on "Intelligent Piety," and Dr. M. C. Harris of San Francisco spoke on "Be Ye Filled with the Spirit," followed by a prayer service.

It was decided to hold the next convention at Stockton.

Bicycle Riders Injured.

A serious accident occurred on the Oakland Trotting Park track Sunday, which will probably result in preventing two of the Acme Club's speediest men from riding for some time. Arthur Agnew was going down the home stretch at a very fast clip, when F. W. Decker wheeled in through the big gates. The men came together and both fell heavily. Decker was unconscious for a time and Agnew was so seriously hurt that it took three hours to restore him. His neck was first thought to be broken, but the injury was not quite so serious. His spine was hurt, and he suffered concussion of the brain.

AWAKENED ENTHUSIASM.

Oakland Board of Trade Holds a Largely Attended Meeting.

New Blood Is Infused Into the Organization and Activity Resumed.

An enthusiastic meeting of nearly 100 merchants of this city was held last evening for the purpose of reorganizing the Oakland Board of Trade. M. J. Keller, president of the old board, called the meeting to order and outlined the purposes for which the reorganization was deemed necessary. The membership of the old Board of Trade had dwindled down to 125. Over 300 citizens had already promised and were willing to take an interest in the reorganization of the board. It is intended to increase the membership to at least 600 or 800. Mr. Keller referred to the Boards of Trade of Los Angeles and San Francisco, and stated that there was no reason why a similar organization should not be effected here. He stated that it was a disgrace that in a city the size of Oakland there should not be a commercial exhibit.

Craigie Sharpe, who has been instrumental in reviving an interest in the Board, said that even the city of Fresno had something to show visitors, while Oakland had nothing.

"We are dead in this town," said Mr. Sharpe, "and we need to be woke up. We are on the eve of an era of progress.

"The biggest surprise in commercial circles in this city was the exposition of last December. When the idea was started everybody doubted the feasibility of it, but the projectors went ahead. And what did we see? One week did not satisfy the people, and when we were forced to close the doors we had a very handsome surplus on hand. We do not want to lose the benefit of that example, but we want to extend it to Alameda, Berkeley and every town in this county. We have our own matchless water front, and our future is in your hands."

He briefly referred to the work accomplished by Boards of Trade in other towns and outlined the improvements Oakland should have.

H. M. Van Arman referred to the difference between Los Angeles and Oakland, and said that this city suffers because of the preference shown by Easterners for the southern city. This was due to the manner in which Los Angeles boomed itself.

Colonel J. L. Lyon said the organization should be made powerful enough to compel the Board of Supervisors to carry out necessary improvements, and if the organization numbers 500 or 600 active members this could be done.

"For fifteen years," he said, "we have been trying to get a road into Contra Costa County. We have not got a road yet, and by this time we should have an electric line over the hills, and should be using it and deriving great benefit from it. But we must have a powerful, united organization. We have lots of time now; business is dull. What we want is money and that we can only get by enthusiastic work. We have got to do it for self preservation, and there is no alternative."

H. C. Capwell said it was evident that the merchants were in earnest, and moved that a nominating committee of seven be appointed to canvass among the members and select men of energy and will for directors.

Edson Adams seconded the motion, which was carried.

The chairman appointed H. C. Capwell, Edson F. Adams, J. F. Towle, G. E. Fairchild, E. W. Martin, M. J. Laymance, H. Hogan.

A lively discussion ensued as to instructing the nominating committee, but it failed, and it is very evident that there will be a lively election next Tuesday evening.

The old board, which consists of M. J. Keller, president; W. A. Kenney, vice-president; J. P. Street, secretary; C. C. Nordhausen, H. C. Capwell, E. G. Buswell, C. L. Dam, E. J. Murphy, S. B. Boyce, Chas. L. Smith, J. P. Taylor, C. R. Root, are desirous of giving new men a chance to prove their zeal and ability. The board has served for three or four years and they consider a change of directors advisable.

DR. BROWN IS GUILTY.

A Stormy Scene at the Closing of the Ministers' Conference.

DR. M'LEAN IS THREATENED.

His Son Threatens to Put a Bullet Through Him.

BROWN'S FRIENDS ARE MAD.

They Declare the Decision of the Conference to Be an Outrage.

The famous Brown scandal has at last reached a definite conclusion and the chief actor in the sensational affair is dethroned by his brother ministers.

Before the afternoon session opened, the contingent upholding the accused pastor realized the helplessness of the case and during their luncheon, in one corner of the church, it was decided to make a bolt from the edifice, as soon as the expected unfavorable verdict was reached. With this end in view, Deacon Morse, instructed his faction to gain convenient seats near the aisles and at a given signal to rise and flee. That the programme was not carried out, was due to the length of the session, which withheld the uplifted ax till the last minute.

When the Tribune went to press yesterday, Dr. McLean still occupied the rostrum, where for half an hour, he rehearsed the case and pointed out Brown as unfit to wear the frock. Had a vote been taken when he concluded, unquestionably, the accused clergyman would have been deposed by at least a two-thirds vote. However, the telling play of the defensive faction turned those laymen, who had heretofore been on the fence, in favor of Brown and when the final vote was taken he was beaten by just 17 votes, the results being 49 in favor of adopting the Haven's resolutions and 32 against adoption.

Brown received the verdict without betraying the least emotion and his only remark was, "I am not downed yet."

Valley, the pastor's son, however could not restrain his feelings and during the pandemonium which broke loose following the announcement, he went into hysterics and threatened Dr. McLean with bodily harm and it was with difficulty that he was quieted. One woman invoked the curse of God on the prosecuting pastor, while out in the corridors men waxed and swore they would not submit to what they termed, "an outrage."

It was truly a most remarkable scene and one which will live long in the memory of Congregationalism.

In the course of his closing address for the prosecution, Dr. McLean said:

"I stand here through an intense conviction of duty. When Dr. Brown came into the meeting of ministers about the first of the year and asked them to suspend their judgment until he had had a chance to vindicate himself I favored it, and made a motion to grant his request. When the Overman letters were published, startling as they were, Dr. Brown said he could clear himself if allowed to do so by his attorneys. I believed him, and gladly waited. I went into the council believing that Dr. Brown would be found to be innocent. I cannot make you know the sickening doubt which grew and grew, and coiled itself, like some black, damning snake, about my heart. But through it all I tried to be a fair moderator. It was a strenuous period. It was a period of doubt. I had put together the evidence, piece by piece, and the state of my mind grew from suspicion to conviction of guilt. I was convinced, as were the other councilors, that something had transpired which should not have transpired in the conduct of Dr. Brown as a Christian minister."

The clergyman then went on to submit the evidence in the case and step by step wove a net about Brown.

During the evening session, Dr. Chapman, who was always considered an anti-Brown man, created a sensation by declaring himself opposed to the resolutions and in favor of Brown. This added much weight to the case of the accused.

Many others spoke, and then Dr. Brown was given the floor.

His address was lengthy and in it he recited the charges from beginning to end. It was intimated that several members of the gathering were acting in an unchristian manner, but in conclusion the pastor pleaded that his good work in the past be taken into consideration. He grew pathetic, and almost pitiful when he said that he had listened all day for one kind word of Christian regard for his work, but had not heard it, and was now compelled, perforce, to refer to it himself for the first time in his life.

"Finally, my brethren," he said, "to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ is my life. I love the gospel more than my life. I have been obliged to picture to myself what the future would be if you hand me over to the secularities. I shall go forth branded, and there are honorable men in the law, in business life and even in the humblest paths who would shun and avoid me. What do you propose that I shall do? I ask again, then, my brethren, that you ask yourselves that something more than the present evidence be adduced before I am condemned and dismissed from the ministry. I would rather be shot down where I stand than that such a thing should occur." Then the Moderator announced that the vote would be taken and when the count was finished, it was announced that Dr. Brown was no longer a member of the Bay Conference.

A LICENSE DISCUSSION.

The Merchants' Exchange Will Further Investigate the Problem.

The Trip to Alvarado Is Appreciated and the Host Is Thanked.

The Merchants' Exchange held a meeting last night at which the license question was thoroughly discussed.

Attorney DeGoia, who has been investigating the matter to see what could be done in the licensing drummers of wholesale houses, reported that according to the decision of the Supreme Court in the test case of a drummer arrested in Chico for violating a city ordinance requiring drummers for wholesale houses to have a license, the city ordinance was upheld.

The city Council could pass a like ordinance in this city if the merchants desired.

This question caused considerable discussion, some of the merchants arguing that it would be a protection to local houses while others thought this would injure home industries by allowing Eastern drummers to monopolize the trade. No action was taken by the merchants in the matter beyond requesting the license committee, which consists of Chairman D. C. Brown, Theo. Gier, Walter Meese, C. W. Kinsey and A. T. Smille, to examine the present city license ordinances, both those in operation and dormant and report on the matter at the next meeting.

The chairman was requested to appoint a committee to draw up resolutions of thanks to Mr. Dingee for the Alvarado trip tendered to the Merchants' Exchange. The committee will be appointed this afternoon.

THE FATE OF TWO BOYS.

The Young Burglars Are Not Equally Favored in the Prison.

Youthful Majors Is Put to Work in the Folsom Rock Quarry.

Mrs. Dila Wilmore, the mother of Bert Wilmore, the boy burglar, is rejoicing over the fact that Bert has been given an opportunity to learn a trade while serving his sentence in prison, as he has been put to work in the electrical works. Poor Mrs. Wagner, the unfortunate mother of Abe Majors, the other boy burglar, is not consoled by any such knowledge, for the last letters from her son informed her that he was working in the quarry.

While in the City Prison, young Majors learned for the first time the fate of his father, who was hung in Santa Clara county for murder. The boy became imbued with the idea that it was useless to struggle against the reputation that had been left him, and seemed to feel it was impossible to do otherwise than follow in his father's footsteps.

When the boys were sentenced, it was rumored that their stay in the Penitentiary would only be a matter of a couple of months, when the Prison Commissioners would transfer the boys to the Whittier or Preston Reform School. It was also said that the boys would be kept apart from the criminals and be given positions as library messengers, but it proves to be a mistake.

Mrs. Wilmore is now very comfortably located on Twelfth street, between Center and Kirkham, and is supplied with sewing by her sympathizing friends.

Mrs Wagner is in needy circumstances and unable to obtain work. She is willing to do anything to obtain an honest living for herself and two little boys.

The only person who would willingly support her and the helpless little ones is Abe Majors, her unfortunate boy, who, two winters ago, went without flannels, that his little half brothers might be clad, showing more love and sacrifice than their own father.

FORTUNE AWAITS.

A Snug Sum Is in Search of a Missing Owner.

A snug little fortune is awaiting Mrs. Allison or Ellison, whose whereabouts at present is unknown.

Diedrick Bruns of Emeryville is in town looking for the missing woman, who is his niece. Her maiden name was Alice Droge. Her parents died in San Francisco 18 years ago, leaving three daughters, Rosie, Lily and Alice, and a little property, which the uncle as guardian has carefully cared for during their infancy.

Rosie married a man named Bolden, and now resides in San Francisco, as also does Lily, who is unmarried.

Alice was wayward, and left her home several years ago. When she was last heard of, she was in Fresno, and she said she was living with her husband, a man named Allison, and that he ran a shooting gallery. Mrs. Allison is at present 28 years of age.

Her father's estate has been fully settled, and her sisters have received their share. All effort to locate the missing woman has been fruitless so far.

Father and Son Set Free at Asheville, N. C.

Little Charley Fogleman Used Tobacco Since Babyhood, and His Father Smoked and Chewed for the Past Twenty Years.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., April 22.—(Special)—"Is that true?" asked the News' man at Pelham's Pharmacy, as he laid down a letter in the presence of a dozen interested customers.

"Yes, it is," promptly answered the proprietor. "It was written here on one of our letterheads, and signed by J. C. Fogleman, who lives at No. 5 Buxton street. We all know he is a man of his word."

This is what the letter said:

"Office of Pelham's Pharmacy, 24 Patton avenue, Asheville, N. C.: Gentlemen—My little boy, now 8 years old, began chewing tobacco when 3 years old by the advice of our family physician, in the place of stronger stimulants. Four weeks ago I began giving him No-To-Bac, which I bought at Pelham's Pharmacy, and to my great surprise and delight, No-To-Bac completely cured him. He does not care for tobacco, and is very much improved in health, eats heartily and has a much better color.

"Finding such results from the use of No-To-Bac, I began myself, and it cured me after using tobacco, in all forms, for twenty years.

"I make this plain statement for the benefit of others.

"(Signed) J. C. FOGLEMAN."

"What's that?" asked Chief of Police H. S. Hawkins, whose manly form, attired in the new police uniform, like Solomon in all his glory, came to the door.

"Why, No-To-Bac cures!"

"Cures? Why, I should say so. I used it myself. It cured me. I bought one box of No-To-Bac from Pelham and was cured after using tobacco—chiefly chewing—for eight (8) or ten (10) years."

Everybody looked astonished and wondered what would next turn up.

"Suppose it don't cure?" some one asked.

"Then you get your money back," replied the druggist. "No-To-Bac is made by the Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago, Montreal and New York, and every druggist in America is authorized to sell No-To-Bac under an absolute guarantee to cure or money refunded. They always do the square thing. Here, read their famous booklet, 'Don't Tobacco Spit,' and in it." Written guarantee and free sample mailed for the asking.

WEDNESDAY.....APRIL 22, 1896.

Joseph H Choate, the distinguished lawyer, who was a guest at the celebration of the Pennsylvania Railroad, made a telling point when he picked up President Robert's statement that the wealth invested in that corporation, converted into silver dollars, would form a double line 8000 miles in length. What Mr. Choate wanted to know was how many miles of gold eagles it would make, and then he added that if the property was ever measured by any other standard the certificates of stock would shrivel like parchment before a fire.

Cuban bonds are now for sale by some of the bankers in Wall street. One large firm recently made this statement. "The bonds would of course, be regarded in the nature of a gamble by the majority of our customers, who would probably not consider them a safe speculation. Still there is no reason to believe that the security may not, in a short time be worth the face value in gold. During the war of Maximillian Mexican bonds bearing 8 per cent. interest sold at about $2.50 on the thousand dollars. "Yet within three or four years the full face value of those bonds was paid without a hitch. So you see there is reason to believe that the issue of Cuban bonds may also be a success."

David A. Wells in the North American Review traces the progress of the regeneration of Egypt to the English protectorate which followed the suppression of the rebellion of Arabi in 1882. He says the first thing an English finance committee of experts did was to reduce to $50,000,000 the annual taxation of $80,000,000 wrung from less than 5,000,000 people. With this reduction there also disappeared a mass of petty exactions which never found their way to the treasury, so that for the first time the Egyptian peasant is allowed to control the fruits of his own labor. Today under English rule, he knows exactly the amount of taxes he has to pay, and when he has to pay them; he is secure against superadded official extortion, as he is against the danger of being compelled to work for the government for nothing.

Slatin Pasha who recently escaped from the Soudan where he had been held a prisoner ever since the death of Gordon, relates in his book "Fire and Sword," how the Kalifa attempted to force depreciated silver dollars into circulation at a legal value above the market value.

"Ibrahim Adlan," "began to strike dollars and it was aranged that the new dollars should consist of six drahmis of silver and two of copper, but should have the same value as the Medjidi dollar. The merchants, however, refused to accept these, and as a punishment the Khalifa confiscated their goods and closed their shops. This brought them to reason, and on agreeing to accept the dollars at their whole value their property was restored. The outcome was an immediate rise of prices to compensate for the difference in value and between the new and old dollars. All the Khalifa knew was that the dollar was accepted and with that he was satisfied."

At a recent dinner in New York of Trinity College graduates Bishop Potter related this anecdote of himself:

"My memories of Hartford are, I am afraid somewhat mixed. I remember many years ago insuring in the Charter Oak Insurance Company there, the policy of which I shall be very happy to present to your president. (Laughter.) Trinity College conferred on me the degree of D. D. I wear the hood of the college and I am bound to say I look upon myself as one who has suffered for Trinity College. At a consecration service in an outlying district which I conducted some time ago I wore that hood. After the services, which ended, as they had begun by a procession, a young girl who had been present, I was afterward told, said to her aunt: "Well, aunty, how did you like the service?" Oh, I liked his sermon," replied the old lady, "but I pity him, and I think his wife should protect him." Being asked by the girl what she meant, the old lady said: "Didn't you see the back of his robe all burst open, and his red flannel shirt all hanging out?" (Loud laughter.)

A Great Philanthropist Gone.

Baron Hirsch who has just died was one of the world's greatest men. If he had been simply a rich man controlling an immense fortune, there would be little to say about him. But Baron Hirsch used his money for the benefit of the world. A Hebrew, he first turned his attention to his own race. He expended millions for their benefit. His philanthropy extended beyond his own race. He was a broad minded, liberal man whose plans for doing good by the use of money exceeded those of any other man of his time. The richest man save the Rothschilds, in all Europe, he was known in all lands as the friend of the poor. There are no honors too great for the memorial of this world wide philanthropist.

Making Ready for a Nomination.

Recently, when Secretary Carlisle was sounded as to his willingness to accept a nomination for the Presidency, he evaded the question, and yet impliedly answered it in such a way as to make the impression that he would accept such a nomination on a sound money platform If the Democracy in the Chicago convention went over to free coinage, he would not go with them. He was more concerned for the attitude which the Democratic party would take on this one question than he was about a nomination. But the two propositions chould not have been wide apart in the mind of Secretary Carlisle.—A satisfactory financial plank in the platform and his own nomination.

It was quite in line with this theory that the Secretary should go to Chicago, right where the Democratic convention is to meet, and from that coign of vantage, deliver his elaborate speech on sound money. It was his aim to address the Democracy of the whole country, and if possible, make such an impression as would bring over the majority in the coming convention to his views. While there is nothing new speech, there are some rather striking statements the art of putting things is well illustrated in this elaborate address. It is the voice of the sound money man addressed to those who believe in soft money. This statement is addresed to wage-earners:

"Money recieved for wages, like money received on every other account is valuable only to the extent that it can be exchanged for other commodities, and it is scarcely necesary to suggest that a dollar worth 50 cents will not purchase as much in the market as a dollar worth 100 cents. To call a dime a dollar would add nothing whatever to its intrinsic value or to its purchasing power. If these propositions are correct it is clear that when wages are in [illegible]

wages must be increased in proportion to the depreciation of the money and in proportion to the increase in the prices of other things, or the laborer will suffer a loss. But I affirm that it is the universal rule that wages do not increase in proportion to the increase in the prices of the commodities the laborer is compelled to purchase."

Wherever a depreciated currency has become flat money to an unlimited extent, it has always driven out the better money. Secretary Carlisle argues that this result would follow unlimited silver coinage in this country.

"The annual production of silver in the world is about $216,000,000 at our coinage rate and the annual capacity of our mints to coin standard silver dollars is only about $40,000,000. Last year we coined $43,933,475 in gold and $9,069,480 in silver, so that if our mints were devoted exclusively to the free coinage of standard silver dollars the addition to our stock of metallic money would be about $15,000,000 less every year than it is now, and it would not be good money after it was coined. More than fifteen years would elapse before we could at this rate coin enough depreciated silver dollars to supply the place of the good gold dollars expelled from the country, and, in the meantime a complete revolution would have to be effected in our commercial relations with other nations and in all our domestic business affairs, including a readjustment of the wages of labor, the price of commodities, the rates of municipal, state and federal taxation, charges for transportation and every other matter involving the use of money or credit. We should descend by a single step from the highest standard of value to silver monometallism, with a contracted and at the same time a depreciated currency, a financial experiment which has no precedent in the monetary history of the world."

It has been said of late, that Carlisle, who was formerly a free silver advocate, has been brought over to his present view through the influence of President Cleveland. It is far more likely that the latter has been confirmed in his views by the conclusions which Carlisle has reached after a thorough study of the question. However that may be, the address at Chicago has this national significance, that it is a clear and concise presentation of views as held by the Administration, and by the "sound money" men of the country.

Siberia is not the cold and inhospitable country that many have supposed. The Inter-Ocean makes this note of the observations of a prominent citizen "Mr. Pangborn, president of the world's transportation commission of the Field Columbian Museum, has just returned from Asiatic Rusia and reports that he was never more surprised in any country and its people than he was with Siberia. He found a delightful country, something like Eastern Ohio, and Western Pennsylvania, not barren and cheerless, but productive and in the summer warm and pleasant, and in all Siberia he found only 400 political prisoners. If Mr. Pangborn states the case correctly the old Russian convict colony has grown into a great nation, and this would raise the question whether the old colonizing idea of the old system of placing convicts in homes in isolated settlements was not better in a reformatory way than the penitentiary system. Certain it is that men sent to Siberia as convicts became good citizens and instead of repelling immigration they became a nation of home-makers. The old penal settlements of Siberia are not the least prosperous districts of Asiatic Russia."

A bill has recently been introduced in Congress that is giving some of the rich Eastern yacht owners much anxiety. Heretofore yachts of foreign origin have been permitted to enter ports of the United States without clearing at the custom houses or paying tonnage tax. The new measure proposes to abrogate all this by a clause which says: "The privileges conferred are not to extend to yachts built outside of the country, and owned, chartered or used by citizens of the United States."

Should the proposed measure go through it will be a bitter pill for such men as Ogden and Robert Goelet, Rutherford Stuyvesant, A. J. Drexel and Eugene Higgins to swallow, and, what is more, it was meant that it should be. All these men are having boats built for them in British shipyards with the exception of Messrs. Stuyvesant and Higgins, whose yachts, the Archurus and the Veruna, are built already. Four of these orders were obtained by Geo. L. Watson when he came over with Valkyrie III, and American designers are naturally indignant.

A report was recently sent up from Georgia that gives the real explanation of the sudden ending of the joint debate between ex-Speaker Crisp and Secretary Hoke Smith; it was not that given in the dispatches—Mr. Crisp's bad health. It was the fact that this drawing of the line so sharply between sound money and free silver Democrats was stirring up such an intensity of feeling as to threaten party disruption and the transfer of such a heretofore solidly Democratic State as Georgia to the Republicans. The ex-Speaker and the Secretary were induced by the leaders of the party to stop their debate of the money question before the breach was past spanning.

How They Caught a Tartar.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union, or that part of it represented in three or four counties, recently held a conference at Pacific Grove. It was deemed a suitable occasion to invite Joaquin Miller to deliver a lecture in furtherance of the interests of that association. Having invited one who was not in sympathy with the spirit and purpose of their plans, a fact which they could easily have ascertained, it was according to the logic of events that Miller should have ridden a bronco right into the temperance convention.

And now some of the members affirm that "if Miller had been talking for the benefit of the liquor traffic his lecture would have fitted the idea very nicely. But we do not believe in his ways and his lecture was wholly inappropriate and entirely out of place in an assemblage of Christian temperance women. Another member represented that Miller rambled around a great deal, that aside from his temperance views, his lecture from a literary point of view was uninteresting and unpleasant to the listeners. His attire was unbecoming and so on.

Miller will probably be amused by this criticism. He never pretended to be a temperance man, nor even an orator. But he has a way of blurting out his own views in a rambling and disjointed way, to the great discomfort of his audience. It would have been worth the price of the lecture to have seen that audience at Pacific Grove with Miller in bronco dress, his pantaloons tucked in his boot tops, dealing out his anti-temperance views to his amazed hearers. They had caught a Tartar, but he must have offered piquant sauce on that occasion.

Effects of the Brown Decision.

It was a foregone conclusion that the conference yesterday would not mince matters in the Brown case. The decision yesterday was in the nature of a judgment on the verdict rendered by the council which sat in San Francisco. His judges on that occasion became his accusers yesterday. Besides these, there was a majority of the conference who did not sit in the original case, and only read the proceedings as they appeared in the newspapers. There was no testimony offered yesterday.

The findings yesterday are probably in accord with public opinion. The original verdict was a merciful one. There was a mild censure of the accused; and then the matter was apparently left with the church for a time to see what action was taken. Nothing was done, save that a minority of the membership signed a petition asking the accused to resign. But this was never formally presented.

The effect of the finding yesterday simply withdraws the fellowship of the churches from Dr. Brown, which might be followed by the withdrawal of fellowship from the church in San Francisco should it persist in sustaining the man. One might wish that there was assurance that the end of the whole matter had been reached. It is narrowed down now to a question of the retention of Dr. Brown by the local church in San Francisco.

THE SOCIETY GIRL'S COLOR.

It Is White for Vest, for Revers, for Collar.

An old saying tells us that after a green Christmas we may expect a white Easter. And a white Easter we have had; nor is there any abatement in the whiteness, now that Easter has been followed by seven days. All have been equally white.

Every woman, when she makes her round of calls, wears a brilliant costume—with a white vest. Every white vest is flanked each side by a white rever, and topped with a white stock collar of ribbons. And all is the whiteness of satin chiffon over satin, the sheen of it mingling with the golden glitter of sequins or embroidery.

To encourage women in this folly, and a charming folly it is, the shops offer white satin revers, ready to be sewed on Embroidered vests to match can also be secured. Chiffon comes in the prettiest crinkle for the making of these vests, while net is so popular that nothing need be said of its glories. Fine silk mull is perhaps as pretty as any material, but it should be worn over a colored lining, yellow being the most favored.

It is heresy to say it, but white satin revers are not serviceable. They need to be cleaned every time the wearer dons them, or a very slovenly appearance is the result. Therefore, the sensible girl eschews them, wearing in their stead revers of velvet to match her gown, edged with white lace—the indispensable white.

A THREATENED CRISIS.

The City Is Spending More Than It Can Afford.

Auditor Snow Prepares a Statement That Shows the Truth.

There is one thing certain the city must repeal some of the ordinances lately passed authorizing the expenditure of City funds or Oakland is going to be way behind before the end of the year. The Mayor has figured, the expert has figured and the different departments have figured on the financial situation and now the City Auditor has taken a hand and has prepared a statement which he will transmit to the Council at its next meeting to be referred by it to the Finance Committee for food for its meditation.

"I have taken no sides in preparing this," says Mr. Snow, "but it is done more to notify the city's creditors that many of them will not get their money if they are not careful, for the statutes provide that we cannot incur debts this year to be paid out of next year's funds so that a contractor or supply man who does work or furnishes supplies to the city when the fund on which his requisition is drawn is exhausted stands little chance of ever getting his money. It is a guide-post to those who have business dealings with the city and if they do not heed it and come out behind I am not to blame."

The statement is based on three calculations, all of which show a shortage. The first calculation is looking up the situation through rose tinted glass. It supposes every dollar of taxes to be paid and no expenses incurred other than those already incurred by statutes, ordinances and resolutions now in force to which is added the necessary running expenses, such as feeding prisoners and horses, street lighting and sprinkling and sweeping the bituminized thoroughfares. Under these circumstances the shortage would amount to $23,000.

The second calculation is based on the same figuring of frugality, but contemplates that certain taxes against the railroad and electric roads will not be collected. This amounts to $8000 and raises the shortage to $31,000.

The third calculation uses the same basis of expenditures as the two preceding ones, but eliminates the estimated delinquent taxes, the payment of which under the new law may be deferred for five years. This raises the shortage to $42,000.

The only way left for the city to remain solvent is to repeal certain ordinances lately passed authorizing the expenditure of money though even if they are not repealed they may never be enacted, for a wary contractor would not agree to the work with the chances so poor for getting his pay. There are but three ordinances which could be so repealed. They are for repairing the Eighth street bridge, for an engine house on the Sixth street lot, and for the purchase of a chemical engine for North Oakland. The money authorized to be expended under these amounts in total to about $20,000, and there still remains a shortage.

One of two things is left to be done, and it may be necessary to do both, either the street sprinklers must be laid off, which for three months would save $12,000, or the electric lights turned off, which would save $5000 a month.

The Council and the Mayor have been at outs ever since he advocated the dollar limit. The Council has held the amount insufficient and the Mayor maintains that the Council is trying to prove its statement by recklessly spending the money.

Some time ago it was rumored that the Council intended to turn off the lights and the Mayor's friends now say that that body is fixing things so that it will be absolutely necessary to carry out the intention.

Use and Abuse of "Slanguages."

Canada's new magazine, Massey's, has a department, entitle "Jokoseris," conducted by J. W. Bengough and illustrated with thumb-nail sketches in much the same stlye as Zangwill's department in The Pall Mall Magazine. Here is a simple bit from the March number:

"Theoretically, I object to slang as strongly as anybody—even more strongly if possible, than Sam Jones, the Southern preacher. Sam, however, himself uses it habitually. I trust I do not. I use very little of it, in fact, and that little for a distinct purpose. In strict confidence, I don't mind mentioning what this purpose is—it is simply that I may impress the casual stranger that I am an up-to-date person; because you see, I strongly object to being taken for a Jay—(I don't know clearly what a Jay is, but I have an idea that the word is a recent addition to the English 'slanguage,' and means something green.) Most people I believe, share with me the harmless desire to give the impression that they know their way about town; and I don't think there is any cheaper or easier method of arriving at the result than the use—sparingly and occasionally, of course, of mild slang. Some folks, (members of the lower orders or of the upper ten—for here extremes meet) use nothing but slang. The most accomplished of lexographers would find it impossible to understand the ordinary conversation of a Bowery boy; and almost equally difficult to translate the fashionable lingo of London or New York. I don't think it's at all nice to carry slang so far as this. By doing so you give the impression that you are a loafer or a 'smart person'—much of the same thing. But when into the stream of English undefiled which ordinarily issues from your lips, you drop an occasional slang word, you practically extort from your listener the mental exclamation 'Ah! this man has traveled!' thus unostentatiously, you manage to cover yourself with glory. See?"

TAXES AVOIDED HERE.

Councilman Bassett Springs One on the Stock Corporations.

Editor Tribune: Sir:—Little more than two years ago the Davie Ferry & Transportation Company was required to pay and did pay to the City and County of San Francisco a tax of ten cents on each share of stock issued or transferred. This tax was paid in compliance with a State law which is as follows:

TAX

Section 1. It shall be lawful for the secretary of every corporation in the State of California to demand and receive of any person requiring the issue to him of any certificate of stock in such corporation, a fee of ten cents in coin for each certificate, whether such certificate be the original issue or an issue on transfer; and such certificate shall not be delivered by the secretary until such fee shall be paid.

Section 2. It shall be the duty of the secretary of every such corporation on the first Monday in January, April, July and October of each year, to make returns, under oath, to the Tax Collector, or officer acting as Tax Collector of the number of certificates issued by the corporation of which he is secretary, during the quarter preceding and pay to such Tax Collector the sum of ten cents in coin for each and every certificate so issued by said corporation, except that in the City and County of San Francisco such returns and payments shall be made to the license tax collector or officer engaged in the collection of licenses in said city and county.

Section 3. Such Tax Collector or License Collector is hereby authorized and empowered to examine such secretary under oath as to the truth of said returns, and to examine, if necessary, the books of such corporation, so far as they relate to the transfer of stock, or issue of certificates, and if the returns are not correct, then he is authorized to commence an action against such corporation in any court of competent jurisdiction, in the name of the People of the State of California, for a penalty of One Hundred Dollars for each certificate issued by such corporation and not so returned under oath, and several penalties may be found in such action.

Section 4. Any person violating the provisions of section two of this act shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor and false swearing to any return provided in section two, shall be deemed perjury.

Section 5 All moneys collected under the provisions of this act shall be paid by such Tax Collector, or License Collector into the County Treasury and shall become a part of the general fund, or if there shall in any county be no general fund, then the same shall become a part of such fund as the Board of Supervisors may direct.

Approved April 1, 1878—Stats. 1877-8, p. 955.

If this law has not been repealed is it enforced in this county and if not why not? There are a number of mining companies here. Street railroad stock is changing hands. A short time ago much of the stock of the California Bank, Collins' bank, was transferred. Only a few days since there was a commotion in the stock of the Contra Costa Water Company. If the law is law there is ten cents due the county on each issued or re-issued share of stock of every corporation. It is worth looking after.

Oakland, April 21, 1896.

J. M. BASSETT.

P. S.—Since writing the foregoing I have conferred with a number of our leading lawyers who all assure me that the law as quoted above is in full force. J. M. B.

The Berkeley and Stanford Athletes Ready to Combat.

FIELD DAY MEN ARE CHOSEN.

Cyclers All Preparing for the National Circuit Meet.

SPORTS ARE NOW BOOMING.

The "Umpire" Comments on Baseball and the Wheel.

The National Circuit will open in Oakland on May 1st at the Fabiola Fete.

Berkeley and Stanford baseball clubs play on the campus this afternoon.

The bench show opens in Oakland May 20th.

The intercollegiate field day takes place on the campus Saturday.

Y. M. C. A. bicyclists will hold a club race on the Oakland Trotting Park Monday.

Thursday evening the San Francisco and Oakland basket ball clubs of the Y. M. C. A. will combat in the local gymnasium.

THE UMPIRE.

The opening of the baseball season in the East, shows that the sport there has lost none of its favor, but instead has increased in popularity. This is evident by the fact that at the six games played, there was a total attendance of over 32,000 people, the Philadelphia-Boston game, alone, being witnessed by 23,000 spectators, while even Louisville, which heretofore has been considered a poor ball town, played to an audience of 10,000.

This attention to the sport in the East is in striking contrast to the lack of interest apparent on this coast. With San Francisco and the immediate cities to draw from it does seem that a first class league could be supported here. That such an attempt is in progress, is generally known, but the older heads are not at all sure that the proposed league will be a lasting success.

In speaking to an old-timer recently, concerning the new venture, the question arose as to where the material for the clubs would come from, if the games were inaugurated.

"Why," he said, "I have not the faintest idea that this talk will ever amount to anything. Where are their players? Tip O'Neill carried away with him the few available men, when he recently took a carload of the clever amateurs up north recently. Now we have no men left at all, who are not already signed with Eastern clubs. Look at the last attempt at league games. It was a dismal frost and why? Because the people will not take interest enough in the game to support it. So now the managers are confronted with a double problem, first, to get the players and second to get the public. The first is hard enough, but the latter has been proved well nigh impossible."

* * *

The Northwestern League has among its players many California professionals as well as amateurs. The men O'Neil took up with him, will go to the Victoria Club, under Gus Klopf. O'Neill himself, will play second base.

Many of the men are shaky regarding the financial success of this league. In '90 and 91 it was a failure and now that this year, Victoria is in the circuit with Portland, Tacoma and Seattle, it is argued that the expenses will be necessarily so great, owing to the long jumps, that the league cannot stand the strain. However, it is a well known fact that salaries are much lower this year than heretofore and this in some measure will make up for the added expenses.

Van Haltern's work this season is much better than in the past. Eastern journals freely comment on his good form and predict for the California boy a glorious success this year. In a recent game he demonstrated his cleverness. Van Haltern was playing out in the field with his club but for seven straight innings the score tallied up heavily on the wrong side. The regular pitcher was then taken out of the box and Van substituted. In the remaining two innings he not only covered himself all over with glory, but brought victory to his club, though only by the small margin of one run.

The Californians present, tendered him an ovation and after the game he was honored by a reception, at which even some Congressmen were present.

The make-up of the New York club this year leaves Stafford out in the cold, but it will not be long before he will be signed to hold down the second bag for some one of the big Eastern clubs.

Roscoe Coughlin plays with Springfield this year and he is said to be in excellent form.

The report that Vincent Dailey, Oakland's left field for '89, had his hand cut off in a saw mill, is entirely erroneous. He will be seen with the Eastern League all season with both hands intact.

* * *

Minor league teams are springing up all over the State like mushrooms and prospects are propitious for a good minor league. Among the clubs already in the field from the immediate vicinity are the Acme, Reliance, Oakland, San Francisco, Centerville, "Pilot" of Santa Cruz; Fresno and Sacramento clubs.

Without doubt, if these organizations would form a combination to play a regular series of games, baseball would be given a big boom.

In this connection, the local clubs suffer from the lack of suitable grounds on which to run bases. If some one of the many electric lines would fit up a good diamond, it would be profitable, not only to the company, but to the players as well, for then a local league would surely be formed and it is possible that the combination might stretch out to San Francisco and through the immediate south.

At present Oakland clubs are ashamed to invite other teams to play match games on vacant lots and as a consequence, the visitors here are few and far between.

If some enterprising car line sees fit to place grounds at the disposal of the players, it can have the assurance that games will be played to a free gate. The increased revenue, in fares, alone, would certainly warrant such a project.

* * *

Wheelmen all over the country have been misled by the publication of a supposed bulletin from L. A. W. headquarters. The section which has caused widespread comment is as follows:

"Any cyclist ceases to be an amateur by riding after April, 1896, in a bicycle race upon any make of bicycle offered for sale or manufactured in any factory, store or other place of business in which he is employed in any capacity whatsoever."

That there is no authority for any such statement, Chairman Gideon emphatically asserts and in his recent bulletin he states the case in the following words:

"There is no such rule in our racing rules, and it is not intended there shall be this year. Clause F of the amateur rule in the L. A. W. constitution provides that any racing man employed in a cycle establishment may, by a vote of the racing board, be transferred to the professional ranks. This does not mean that the board will make wholesale transfers of such employes, but that it may use its discretion in transferring racing employes against whom it may be impossible to obtain other evidence, and by whom the board may believe that advantages are received contrary to the spirit of the amateur definition."

It is also apparent from this last that employers of bicycle firms are not necessarily declared professionals by their connection with the business, and this will be welcome news to many who thought they were barred from amateur races.

THE UMPIRE.

CYCLE TOPICS.

The recent bulletin issued by Chairman Gideon of the L. A. W., is of particular interest to local riders, especially those connected with the various schools. It is as follows:

"Race-meet promoters and managers of school and college track teams will please note the following: Every year about this time the various colleges and schools begin to develop racing men to represent them at the intercollegiate and interscholastic outdoor games. It is customary to run off one or more trials to pick out a team. Racing throughout the United States is governed by the L. A. W., and the L. A. W. requires that every track race be sanctioned. A man competing in an unsanctioned event is liable to suspension.

Now, young men in particular may not care whether they are suspended or not, but they are sure to find somebody at the final meet from some other college who does care, and will not allow them to ride if under suspension. The trouble occurs every year, when by a little caution it can be prevented.

Remember that every race on a track, be it one event or more, must be sanctioned. If you are to have any trials send for sanction every time. For open races a fee is charged, but no fee is required for closed club or school events, but in all cases send for sanction and save your men from suspension, which in one or more cases last year affected the standing of the school in points won at the championship meeting."

Allan Jones and Walter Foster will form this year's racing team for the Rambler people. Both are record-breakers, and though they have been transferred to the professional class, will undoubtedly win money all along the line.

Foster may follow the National Circuit, though Jones will not compete outside of the immediate vicinity.

BALL TOSSERS.

The Mail Carriers Meet With Defeat—Acme Game Sunday.

The Oakland mail carriers and the Joyce ball clubs played a game last Sunday on St. Mary's College grounds. The Joyce nine won by a score of 21 to 13.

The feature of the game was the playing of Ike Cohen.

Postmaster White managed the Mail Carriers and James A. Joyce the club bearing his name.

The Acme and Saturday Press ball clubs meet Sunday on the Campus of St. Mary's College.

THE RELAY DISCUSSION.

The Latest Phase of the Situation Regarding the Winners.

On Monday night the Bay City Wheelmen turned over to the board of governors of the Associated Cyclers, the much disputed cup. It will be held by that body until the dispute is definitely settled.

There is dissension in the ranks of the Garden City Cyclers over the protest filed by that club against the Bay City Wheelmen.

The club is divided as to the advisability of pushing the protest against the winning team, most of the members believing that the matter should be dropped. If the decision of the Garden City Cyclers would control the acts of the Associated Clubs, the Bay City Wheelmen would be declared the winners of the cup, even though they have openly violated sporting etiquette by having the club name engraved upon it before it was awarded to them.

The meeting of the officials of this division of the League of American Wheelmen, which was to have taken place next Saturday night in the rooms of the Reliance Club Wheelmen, has been postponed. The next meeting will take place immediately after the circuit races next month.

Y. M. C. A. SPORTS.

Basket Ball and Bicycles Occupy the Athletes' Attention.

The Y. M. C. A. bicycle club will hold a club race at the Oakland Trotting Park next Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. All interested in the event are requested to leave their names with the secretary of the association not later than Saturday.

On Thursday evening the Oakland and San Francisco Association clubs of the Y. M. C. A. will meet at the local gymnasium in a game of basket ball. Admission will be free and a good attendance is anticipated.

ALAMEDA DRIVERS.

Money Raised for Constructing a Circular Track.

The meeting Monday evening of the Alameda Driving Association proved a productive one. Much interest was manifested in the proposition to construct a one-mile circular track and that the project was popular was evident by the subscription of $500 at that time, toward the movement.

The plan is to lay out a track on the marsh land just below the boulevard and if this is done the gentlemen drivers will have an excellent place on which to test the speed of their horses.

The subscription list which is still open, is in charge of the following members: Judge Ellsworth, Dr. C. G. Bull, Charles L. Gardner, C. S. Neal and Payne Shafter.

That the bicycle races at the Fabiola Fete will be an important event in wheeling circles is now evident. AN O. H. S. VICTORY.

The Result of the A. A. L. Field Day at Berkeley.

The Academic Athletic League held its fourth semi-annual field day Saturday on the cinder track at the University. The following schools participated: Lowell High School, Berkeley High School, Stockton High School, Centerville High School, Holtt's School, Alameda University Academy, Oakland High School, Polytechnic High School, Alameda High School, Sacramento High School, St. Mathew's High School, Berkeley Gymnasium.

In the 120-yard hurdle, Cheek, O. H. S., broke the League record of 18 1-5 seconds by winning in 17 4-5 seconds; Colby B. H. S., second.

Jenks, O. H. S., won the first heat of the 100-yard dash in 11 1-5 seconds; Osborn, St. Mathews, second. In the second heat Drum, L. H. S., won in 11 seconds; Lippmann, Holtts, second.

In the finals, Drum won in 11 seconds; Lippmann, second, and Jenks third.

The 880-yard dash was won by Shaw, L. H. S., in 2:12 4-5; Steele, O. H. S., second, and Maley, S. M., third.

The 16-pound shot put was won by Cheek, O. H. S., who broke the A. A. L. record with 37 feet 5¼ inches.

Hoffman, O. H. S., won the high jump and J. Hoffman, O. H. S., won the pole vault, with Cheek, O. H. S., second.

The hammer throw was won by Woolsey, B. H. S., though Lynch, O. H. S., distanced him by six feet, but owing to an error was ruled out.

As a result of the day's sport O. H. S. scored 41 points, and Berkeley 38. The other schools were way below in their marks. The High School boys feel justly proud of their victory, for they were pitted against the best amateur material in the State.

YACHTING COMMENCES.

The Encinal Club Inaugurates the Season's Aquatic Events.

The Encinal Yacht Club opening was not the glowing success anticipated, owing to squally weather, Sunday. However, those who attended the event were amply repaid for their trouble and the affair was at least a joyous round of merry making, if not a great aquatic entertainment.

Owing to the fact that the Commodore's El Sueno could not be moved from the mud bank, the yacht parade was not possible, but E. W. Taylor and Stanley Stephensen on the "Emerald" and Captain Hanley on the "Caprice" interested the spectators with the handling of their respective craft.

Stephensen managed to cause excitement by falling overboard, but as he is an expert swimmer, he suffered no more than receiving a ducking.

In the evening a much larger attendance experienced the hospitality of the club. F. R. Ziel, with steropticon views of nautical nature; H. A. Melvin, Alex Rosborough, the Philomela Quartette, Acme Quartette, Captain John Leale of the Bay City and Charles Hart rendered a choice collection of songs. Afterwards dancing to the strains of Yanke's orchestra concluded the festivities.

FOR COLLEGE HONORS.

The Berkeley and Stanford Clubs Will Cross Bats.

This afternoon Berkeley and Stanford ball clubs meet on the University of California campus in the first of a series of three games to decide the annual championship. The game will undoubtedly be a close one for both teams are in good trim.

Berkeley relies on no single individual star, but rather on general team work. Stanford on the other hand looks to McLaine, their clever pitcher, to hold up Palo Alto's honors, for they acknowledge their club is not as strong as it might be. However, McLaine is looked to to strengthen whatever weak points may be evident. In speaking of him a Palo Alto correspondent says:

McLaine is naturally a pitcher. As a child up in the little mining town of Volcano, Amador County, where he was born twenty-two years ago, he showed a remarkable accuracy and later, when his parents moved to San Francisco and he entered St. Mathew's Hall at San Mateo, his skill gained him immediate recognition as the phenomenal young pitcher of his school, a reputation that remained with him up to the time of his graduation in 1891. For several years he occupied the box in every game that his school team played with Belmont School, the University of the Pacific, Trinity School and the local nines of the towns in the Santa Clara Valley. And those were the days when baseball was in its zenith.

"In 1892 he entered Stanford and made the Varsity in his Freshman year. Now in his Senior year he is in the fourth season."

The make-up of the Berkeley club will be as follows:

Bay City Flour makes the best bread.

THE NATIONAL CIRCUIT.

Good Prizes Will Be Offered for Professional Riders.

The National Racing Circuit as already announced, will open at the May Day Fete in Oakland. The managers have decided to offer special inducements to professional racers, increasing the prizes to $100 for firsts, $50 for seconds and $25 for thirds. This will probably induce some of the best racing men in the country to follow the circuit from the beginning, especially as the prizes offered by other race-meet promoters in this State will be of similar value. There will be three professional and two amateur events at the opening meet.

From Oakland the circuit chasers will go to Santa Rosa to race at the opening of the new three-lap track which is nearing completion at that place.

From Santa Rosa the circuit will go to San Jose for the Garden City Cyclers' meet on May 9th.

After a week's rest there will be a race meet in San Francisco on the six-lap board track at Central Park.

From that time on the meets will take place on the following dates at the places enumerated:

Phoenix, Ariz., May 30; Tucson, Ariz., June 1; El Paso, Tex., June 3; San Antonio, Tex., June 6; Laredo, Tex., June 8; Houston, Tex., June 10; New Orleans, La., June 13; Little Rock, Ark., June 16; St. Louis, Mo., June 20; Kansas City, Mo., June 23; Peoria, Ill., June 25, 26, 27; Galesburg, Ill., July 1; Davenport, Ia., July 2; Chicago, Ill., July 11; Appleton, Wis., July 9; Milwaukee, Wis., July 4; Battle Creek, Mich., July 17, 18; Detroit, Mich., July 14; Toledo, O., July 21, 22; Lima, O., July 25; Springfield, O., July 28; Dayton, O., August 1; Nashville, Tenn., August 3; Evansville, Ind., August 5; Cincinnati, O., August 7, 8; Louisville, Ky., August 10, 15; Erie Pa., August 18; Washington, D. C., August 17.

ACMES VICTORIOUS.

A very close game of ball was played by the Reliance and Acme Clubs, Sunday on St. Mary's College campus. The clubs were pretty evenly matched but Campbell's delivery for the Reliance and the Acme's adeptness in stealing bases were accountable for the victory which the Acme Club gained, by a score of 16 to 13.

The nines were as follows:

Reliance: Campbell, third base; Wolton, catcher; Dyer, second base; Ewing, right field; Knowles, left field; Ireland, center field; Oliver, first base; J. Arlett, shortstop; Campbell, pitcher.

NO PRESIDENT CHOSEN.

Police and Fire Commissioners Have Another Stormy Conclave.

They Fail to Agree on the Proposition of Electing a Head.

The Police and Fire Commissioners held another stormy meeting yesterday afternoon, a squabble occurring over the attempted election of a president.

As at last meeting, Mr. Piersol nominated Mr. Wilson and that gentleman looked longingly at the Mayor for a second. But the Mayor returned the glassy eye, and in response to the City Engineer's question, said point blankly that if he wanted a second he must make it himself. This Mr. Wilson refused to do, and the election was declared off.

Charges were brought by Chief Fair against William Schultz. The Mayor had some uncomplimentary things about deciding a case first and then hearing the evidence Tart replies were on the lips of his colleagues, when the attorney calmly arose and averted the tempest by his dignified presence. He entered a plea of not guilty for his client, and the case was set for hearing Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Expert Kaufman offered some suggestions, and was asked to keep quiet while the communication from Chief Lloyd recommending additional adornment to the police officers' uniforms was read. The Mayor said he was in favor of not uniforming the force at all, and it was finally decided to let the matter rest until the Chief came before the Board and explained.

James Mulgrew and James Dolan, two firemen, who, in the discharge of duty, were hurt, were allowed pay for the time their injuries laid them up.

High jump—Koch, U. C., Miller, U. C.

These are the men who are selected as winners out of the numerous entries made and unless some accident or slip occurs, the result will be as expected.

MOSES TO GO EAST.

The rumor is afloat in the University that Professor Moses of the chair of economics and history intends to resign in order to accept a chair in the University of Chicago Professor Moses has not as yet made any announcement in reference to the matter and it is hoped that the report is not founded on facts Professor Moses would be greatly missed, as he has been one of the most active and progressive men in the faculty. Professor Moses intends to deliver a course of fifty lectures at the Chicago University this summer and will depart for that city after the close of the college term.

INTERCOLLEGIATE BASEBALL.

The first intercollegiate baseball match occurs this afternoon on the U. C. campus. The game will be a very exciting one and will probably be closely contested. Both teams have been training hard and play a scientific game. Souvenir score-cards are out that are very striking and artistic in effect.

INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATE.

The intercollegiate debate between the University of California and Leland Stanford, Jr., University will occur on Saturday evening, in Metropolitan Temple, San Francisco. The U. C. boys feel very confident of winning the debate. Stanford is supposed to have the stronger side, but Berkeley has clever speakers.

GENERAL GOSSIP.

Professor Ritter lectured last evening on "Present State of Knowledge Concerning the Segmental Structure of the Vertebrate Head."

Professors Stringham and Slate have returned from their tour through the State. Professor Lange is expected to return tomorrow.

Professor Leuschner of the Astronomy Department, who has recently been granted a year's leave of absence in order to pursue his studies in Europe, will be married before he leaves to Miss Denike of San Francisco and the honeymoon will be spent in Europe.

The Oakland.

The Oakland theater is presenting that clever comedy-drama entitled "A Barrel of Money" this week. It is well staged and excellently played. It is full of wit and blends the ridiculous and the pathetic in an exceedingly attractive way. The dialogue is clever and full of local hits and fun making. Some of the scenes are exceedingly laughable, while others are touching and pathetic.

The Fifth a Loser.

The report of the school census takers shows that the Fifth ward has lost in school pupils since 1892. Last year the census showed a loss of twenty-seven from the previous year. In 1893 and 1894 there was a gain of twenty-five over 1892, but in 1892 the loss was fifty. How much the deficiency will be this year has not been actually determined, as the report has not been fully completed.

More Honors for Stratton.

Frederick S Stratton has been appointed attorney of the People's Home Savings Bank for the suits against shareholders for the unpaid capital stock.

The Reason for It.

"They builded better than they knew" has been familiar to us for years. Nature fully realized what it was doing when it located those famous mineral springs at Byron. To build up exhausted human vitality—the result of dissipation, rheumatism, catarrh, blood diseases, or any of the various ills that are common to the human family—is the one particular thing that nature intended Byron Hot Springs for. A good idea of the resort may be gained at the broad gauge ferry depot, where a huge painting of the place is exhibited.

They make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, giving tone and vigor to the system.

ITS AID ASSURED.

THE MARSH IS DISCUSSED.

The Southern Pacific Company Will Do All In Its Power.

ENTHUSIASM WAS MANIFESTED.

West Oakland's Improvement Club Holds a Rousing Meeting.

The meeting of the West Oakland Improvement Club in Hansen's hall, corner of Eighth and Wood streets, last night, attracted one of the most representative gatherings of citizens of that section of the city that has ever been held in that place of assemblage. The hall was filled with people ranging in callings from the humblest laborer to men of means and distinction in the various walks of life. Many of those present were accompanied by ladies. While the gathering was considered in the light of a regular meeting of the club, special interest attached to it because General Manager Julius Kruttschnitt of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company had accepted an invitation to be present, to discuss with the members ways and means of improving that section of the city.

Among those present were C. H. Redington, J. C. Bullock, M. Cuvellier, W. B. Ludlow, Frank Mott, J. J. Harrington, I. Schonfelder, D. Steffonin, Geo. Drake, A. Fick, H. Wadkins, J. Allman, C. Christen, Mrs. Dr. Anthony, Mrs. Deering, Wm. Berry, E. F. Brown, J. C. Dunn, W. W. Morrison, Phil M. Walsh, Ira Underwood, A. Austen, C. Neilson, H. E. Kensten, Z. T. Rohrback, P. C. Conner, J. C. Colburn, W. J. O'Connell, Frank Senram, E. M. Long, John P. Irish, D. J. Leming, J. Reed, Mr. Nor. James Duffy, Thomas Estrom, P. Flynn, Andrew Hollywood and many others.

Mr. Kruttschnitt made his appearance at an early hour accompanied by B. C. Cuvellier and was introduced to a number of the members who had already assembled. He was courteously received and seemed to create favorable impression with everybody.

Mr. Kruttschnitt is a man of about 45 years of age, of heavy build, full round face, regular features, dark complexion, a sharp, piercing eye and a small head covering of short black hair. He would readily be selected in a crowd as one born to command and this fact was given expression to by many persons who saw him last night for the first time.

Shortly after 8 o'clock the meeting was called to order by President Stark.

Secretary Wines read the minutes of the last meeting and the same were adopted.

The Park and Street Committees reported progress.

The secretary read a communication from W. W. Garthwaite which announced that the latter would be willing to sell, for park purposes, eight acres of marsh land in West Oakland for $5000.

The following communication was read by the secretary.

"Oakland, Aug. 20.—President of the West Oakland Improvement Club: I have your favor of even date announcing that General Manager Kruttschnitt will meet the club tomorrow evening, and inviting me to be present also. It would afford me much pleasure to meet the club on this occasion, but, unfortunately, I have an engagement that cannot very well be postponed.

"I beg to assure you, however, that both officially and as a resident of the territory known as 'West Oakland,' I take an interest in the club and shall be glad to do anything that I can consistently to further the object for which it has been organized.

"Thanking you for the invitation, and regretting my inability to be present at the meeting of your club tomorrow evening, I am yours very truly,

"A. D. WILDER, Supt."

The conclusion of the letter was greeted with cheers.

On motion of Oliver Lindsey the communication read were filed.

W. J. O'Connell, of the committee appointed to confer with the Pacific Improvement Company with reference to the filling of the hole, west of Pine street and between Lincoln and Fourteenth streets, said:

"Mr. Wines and myself called on the Pacific Improvement Company. In doing so we came in contact with Mr. Douty, the president of the association, a gentleman whom I have known from childhood. He showed us, in discussing the question, that he was better acquainted with it than those who went to see him. He took a map down and showed us where the depressions were and what the place needed to improve it. He coincided with us as to the wants of West Oakland and said that he would co-operate with us in doing what he could to improve this part of the town. He sent his man down with us to see General Manager Kruttschnitt, but, as Mr. Kruttschnitt was busy we returned home after being told what the company expressed a willingness to do for us."

This report was received with cheers.

B. C. Cuvellier wanted to know whether another committee had not been appointed to take some steps toward the filling of the hole in question. But no information was vouchsafed on the point.

Councilman Mott, who was present with a map showing the location of the mudhole in question, was requested to come forward and explain it.

Mr Mott complied with the request and said:

"The Council has had this matter under consideration for some time but has made very little progress. The Mayor, the City Engineer, the Board of Public Works and other officials have visited the spot and declared it a nuisance and that it ought to be abated. We are unable from the assessment roll to tell who the owners of the place are. The tract lies between the bay shore and the railroad embankment. We had a search made and have a map which was made by the searcher, which shows the Peralta patent line and the western line of the bay shore and the railroad trestle. As near as we can tell the ownership in the east side is in the Northern Railroad Company and part in the Pacific Improvement Company, the rest is credited to no one. The assessments are paid by no one. There is no doubt but it is included in the city's claim. The patent line follows all around the city and strikes through the middle of this piece of land. I don't know what the city has determined to do. If the railroad company should fill the lot perhaps the city would come in and claim it. Not many years ago, the tide ebbed and flowed there, and now sewers have been extended there to the edge of the water and they are an eye sore.

TALKS TO THE POINT.

Mr. Kruttschnitt was then asked if he would like to speak on the subject and, in coming forward in response to the invitation, said:

"My attention was called to this matter first at the beginning of the week. I understand the question to be the filling up of that area of flooded land between the boundaries indicated. In looking on the map, I see that the Northern Railroad Company owns one-third of that hole. So far as the Northern Railroad Company is concerned it will co-operate with the city so far as it is interested in the property. If it owns one-third of the property, it will pay for the filling of one-third. If it owns one-half of the property, it will pay for filling one-half of it. But, before any work is done, there should be an examination to ascertain to whom the property belongs. If it is owned in part by private owners, they should pay their proportion for the filling of that spot. I see that a part of the land is marked to the Pacific Improvement Company. Your committee has reported to you what that company will do. I am glad that you have heard directly from the company. I am not connected with it but I am confident that whatever the Railroad Company does the Pacific Improvement Company will do the same thing. Another part of the land seems to be owned by no person. Together, we could ascertain who are the owners of the land. When that has been done, I can assure you the co-operation of the railroad company in the filling of that flooded area. When a knowledge of the ownership of the land has been obtained we can work together in abating the nuisance."

These remarks were made in earnest and convincing manner, were received with applause.

John P. Irish was called on and said that the little piece of land which it was desired to have improved was insignificant when compared with the hundreds of acres north of Twelfth street. The nuisance was one not created by the city. It came with graciousness, the statement made by General Manager Kruttschnitt, that the railroad company would assist in abating the nuisance. It ought to be easy to ascertain who owns the ground and if the owners would do as the railroad promises to do, the ground could be easily filled.

Mr. Irish then referred to the condition of the marsh above Twelfth street. He said a nuisance existed there which was created by the city. The place had originally been an innocuous salt marsh, but the city had destroyed it by means of broken sewers. In the payment of taxes, there were no taxes so difficult to pay as the taxes for the sick. He had been paying them for several weeks because he has had sickness in his home as a consequence of the marsh. When the railroad company had done what it had, the association should take some steps to abate the marsh nuisance. He had talked with conductors and motor men on the Twelfth street line and had learned that it was the customary thing when they pased the hole in question, to drop their breakfasts because of the smell which arose from the hole. He had learned from officials of the road that they were compelled to change their men frequently because of sickness occasioned by the hole in question. He hoped that the members of the association had not forgotten that the Council recently had appropriated money out of the general fund to pave certain streets in East Oakland. Did anybody ever hear of the Council appropriating money out of the general fund to put down a piece of bitumen in West Oakland? We have made for years," he continued, "an effort to abate the nuisance by converting the marsh into a public park. If we could get the Council to aid us in this improvement it would be a grand thing to know that we have the co-operation of the railroad company. In the southern part of the state where the people make successful efforts to permanently beautify and improve their homes and towns, the Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific co-operate with the people and build architecturally fine and beautiful depots in keeping with the surroundings. If the people here conclude to improve the natural advantages of Oakland we would like to know whether the railroad company would build an architecturally beautiful station at Oakland which is a terminal station. The mole is only a way-station between this city and San Francisco.

Mr. Irish then said that these improvements would result in a great advantage to the Southern Pacific as well as to the people.

B. C. Cuvellier was then called for and said:

"I agree with Col. Irish. The true salvation is that the city should take steps to fill up the marsh. A portion of the marsh was filled up by the private owners. They placed from five to six feet of earth, sand and shells washed with water from the bay and it made as fine a piece of property as one would desire to see. Colonel Irish tells me that grass is growing on it now. The only way the city can reclaim the marsh west of Peralta street is to condemn and use it for a public park. With regard to the question which Mr. Irish has propounded to Mr. Kruttschnitt as to whether the railroad company would build a depot if the city should build a park at West Oakland, I think it too premature. I think it reasonable that the railroad company should stand with the people. It is safe to take it for granted the Southern Pacific will do something for us. I tell you the railroad company is human like other people. This part of the city is the dearest spot to us because our homes are here. We want the co-operation of the railroad when we ask for these improvements. I have taken some interest in public affairs and politics and I want to say with regard to my stand in the matter that when the railroad is right I believe in giving it fair play. When the railroad is wrong I believe in giving it ——. I endorse what Mr. Irish has said and hold that the Council ought to give us fair play in West Oakland. They are all the time talking about improvements in East Oakland, but they are not spending any money here. I got so tired of this matter some time ago that if I could have sold my property I would have moved away. But I could not sell. You can't sell your property. Isn't that the case? Isn't that so? I appeal to the Council to give us fair play and help us to abate this nuisance and condemn this land so that we may make a park out of it. They ought to condemn this land and submit the question of a park once more to the people of the city. The question was submitted once to the people. It required a two-thirds vote to carry it. We did not get quite that vote but we got, I think Mr. Irish told me, considerably more than half. We ought to try it again. The people may by this time have changed their minds."

Mr. Cuvellier's remarks were received with cheers.

KRUTTSCHNITT THANKED

On motion of Mr. Lindsey a vote of thanks was extended to General Manager Kruttschnitt for the frank and generous co-operation which he had promised the club in its attempts to improve the western part of the city.

President Stark then said that in order to accomplish anything it was necessary to unite their forces west of Market street. It would not require much money to purchase the land necessary for a park. He thought the ground could be purchased for $60,000 and that it could be improved and beautified for $30,000 more. If they made a united effort they could accomplish a great deal. For that reason he extended an invitation to all who were not members of the club and who resided in the district west of Market street to come forward and sign the roll of membership. The expenses of the club were defrayed by the payment of dues at the rate of ten cents per month.

W. J. O'Connell said that at the last meeting it was decided that membership was limited to people residing in the Forty-ninth Assembly District, the eastern boundary of which was the west line of Adeline street.

President Slater said that if such was the case the membership would be limited to the people residing west of Adeline street.

Mr. Cuvellier said that if membership were limited to the territory west of Adeline street, the rules should be changed, because they cut many good people who reside west of Market street.

They would cut out John P. Irish, who lived on the east side of Adeline street.

Mr. Irish spoke in favor of extending the limits to Market street, claiming the club would increase its power and influence in that manner.

The president said that that matter would be discussed at the next meeting of the club which would be held on next Tuesday night.

On motion of Mr. Cuvellier, the meeting then adjourned.

A Croquette

fried in COTTOLENE is a most toothsome morsel to tempt a fickle appetite. Once tried, then all desire for lard-fried things will vanish. Everything fried in COTTOLENE is appetizing, wholesome and healthful—less greasy, tastes better, more digestible.
